

First Soldiers Arrive Home From Vietnam

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — More than 800 American soldiers, some of them old beyond their years, slept under quiet skies for the first time in months, home from the war in Vietnam.

The vanguard of 25,000 servicemen President Nixon is withdrawing from Vietnam flew into McChord Air Force Base near here Tuesday.

"It's a wonderful feeling," said their commander, Lt. Col. Peter B. Petersen of Arlington, Va.

"I hope they bring them all out," said Elesto Williams, 23, Houston, Tex.

Their first night at this Army post was a far cry from their last night in Saigon, where helicopter gunships hovered on the horizon to keep the Viet Cong from spoiling their exit.

When the first group of 94 veterans, most of them in their early 20s, stepped from their C141 transport plane, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army Chief of Staff, told them they would find themselves "more mature, more dedicated to the service of others, more compassionate, more responsible, more realistic and more practical" than their contemporaries.

Their reaction was mixed. "I'm going to go home and cut the grass," said Sgt. Jerome DeBolt, 38, of Titusville, Pa.

"I'm going out and raise hell," said Dave Schutte, 20, of Quincy, Ill.

"I'm going to be a bum during my leave," said Sgt. Kenneth Reynolds, 22, of Black Duck, Minn.

"I want to get home to my girl," said Michael Santoro, 21, of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Of the 814 troops, 776 are enlisted men and 38 are officers. Of the enlisted men, 118 are being released from active duty and 658 are being reassigned. Sixteen officers will be reassigned and 22 will be released from active duty.

Astromonk Trip 'Huge Success'

HONOLULU (AP) — Scientists say astromonk Bonny's doomed space voyage was a huge technical success.

Although the planned 30-day mission was aborted three weeks early and the space monkey, died, the Biosatellite 3 flight was termed near-perfect from launch to splashdown.

"We learned more biomedical data on this animal in three days than we did in all of America's manned space flights," Dr. Charles Wilson, project manager, told newsmen Tuesday.

Biosatellite 3 was launched June 28 from Cape Kennedy, Fla., to show man the effects of prolonged weightlessness.

The 14-pound pigtail primate died at 12:04 a.m. Tuesday in a mobile laboratory at Hickam Air Force Base after a parachute landing in the Pacific Ocean.

An autopsy on the monkey began Tuesday at Hickam, but spokesmen for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it may be weeks before the exact cause of death was known.

Food Costs Up; No Relief Coming

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rising cost of food, already having a painful impact on the nation's consumer, is still going up and the government says there is no sign of any leveling off.

Agriculture Department economist Stephen J. Hiemstra made the grim assessment after it was disclosed Tuesday that wholesale food prices jumped another 1.2 per cent during June.

And when wholesale prices go up, the cost for putting food on the average citizen's table follows right up the spiral, Hiemstra indicated.

"There's not anything that we can see to indicate a drop or a leveling off," he said.

Due entirely to the jump in food costs, the government's Wholesale Price Index climbed four-tenths of one per cent in June to 113.2.

Continuing to lead the way in the rising food prices is the cost of meat, particularly beef. Hiemstra said currently high farm prices for beef, the most popular meat, are expected to continue their momentum for most of the summer at least.

The Labor Department said Tuesday wholesale prices for processed meat, poultry and fish jumped 4.5 per cent in June, leading all other food items.

Calling meat a significant factor in consumer food spending, Hiemstra said that it accounts for 25 to 30 per cent of the average grocery bill.

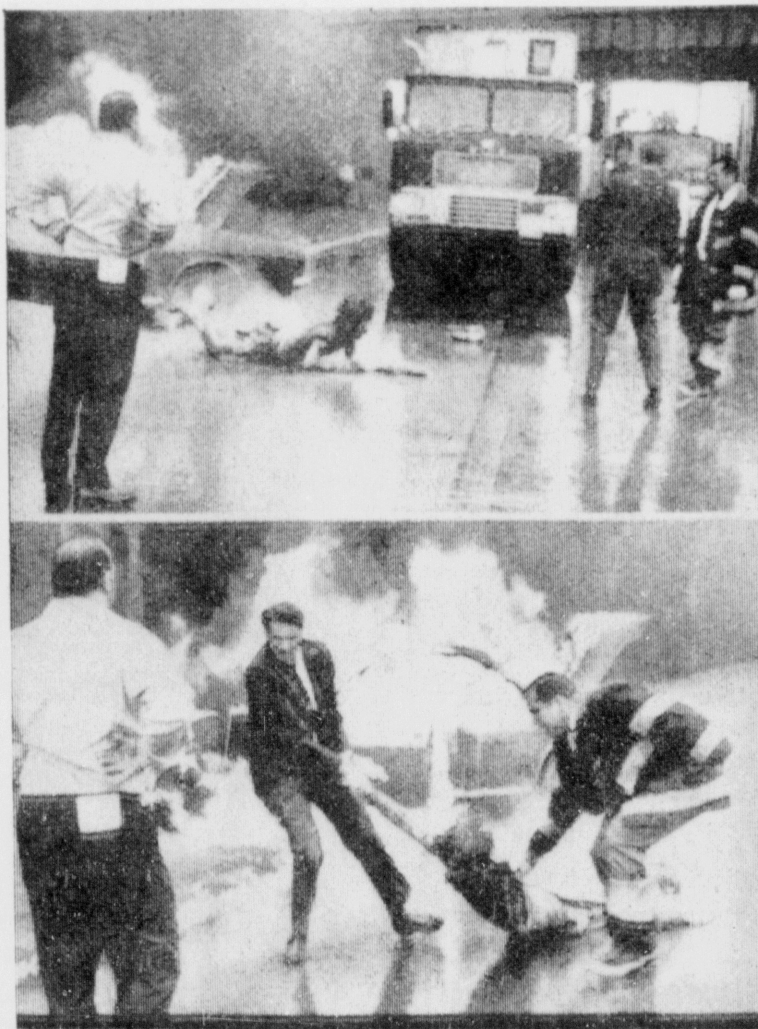

Consumers as an average spend about 17.2 cents of their take-home dollar on food.

Body Found On Mackinac Island

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — The body of one of three members of a family killed in a Memorial Day weekend plane crash was found Tuesday night on Mackinac Island.

Earlier in the day, a commercial fisherman found the wreckage of the light airplane in 110 feet of water off Mackinaw City.

A young couple touring the island on bicycles found the body of James Peter Geiss of Grand Rapids washed ashore on the northeastern edge of the island. Geiss' wife and daughter also perished in the crash.

THE CLOTHES BURNED off his body, Barry Bernhardt, 23, of 1420 E. Fourth St., Brooklyn, lies on the pavement as his car burns after crashing into a wall on the northbound lane of the New England Thruway in New Rochelle, N. Y., Monday. At bottom, rescuers pull Bernhardt away from the flaming wreck. A passenger in the car died in the crash. Bernhardt is in critical condition. (AP Wirephoto)

Sex Education Meeting Provokes Angry Outbursts

Challenge Church-Shared Schools

Chicago Told: Integrate Faculty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government threatened today to bring a school desegregation suit against the Chicago Board of Education unless steps are taken toward faculty integration in the nation's third largest school system.

The Justice Department notified the Chicago board it had concluded, after an extensive examination of the city's school policies, that present faculty assignment transfers procedures deny equal protection of the laws to Negro pupils.

Any suit against Chicago would be the government's largest single desegregation action since passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. The largest city now under a court order is Houston, Tex.

Opportunity

In a letter to Board President Frank M. Whiston, Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard said the department is providing school officials "with an opportunity to take appropriate steps to eliminate voluntarily the racially discriminatory practices we found in the operation of the school system."

The department investigation, Leonard said, "compels the conclusion that the school system's practices with respect to the assignment and transfer of faculty and staff members have had the effect of denying to Negro students in the Chicago public schools the equal protection of the laws."

The letter said 215 of Chicago's 578 elementary, junior and senior high schools have all-white or all-Negro faculties.

In addition, the letter said, 93 per cent of the Negro elementary and junior high teachers were assigned to schools where Negro youngsters comprised 90 to 100 per cent of the enrollments.

The Nixon administration indicated Tuesday it will challenge some arrangements allowing Catholic and public school systems in several northern cities to share facilities.

The first court test may involve Waterbury, Conn., where the federal government says such an arrangement is used to deny equal educational opportunities to Negro and Puerto Rican youngsters.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard, chief of the Justice Department's civil rights division, notified the Waterbury Board of Education Tuesday a lawsuit is in the works unless immediate steps are taken to correct alleged inequities.

Among them, he said, in an arrangement with the Catholic school system "that allows white students to escape the predominantly nonwhite school districts in which they reside and to attend the practically all-white parochial school system at the expense of nonwhite students and parents."

Share Gyms

Leonard did not specify in his letter to Board President Salvatore Terenzo how the agreement worked.

But other officials said the program involved public facilities, such as classrooms and gymnasiums, that are shared with Catholic schools.

In addition, they said a "totally public bus system" provides free transportation to Catholic school pupils as well as students at public schools.

Gerald W. Jones, the civil rights division's northeastern section chief, said situations under which Catholic-public school arrangements are sued "prevail pretty much universally throughout the Northeast."

Leonard charged that in Waterbury, an industrial city of 110,000, Negro and Puerto Rican children are assigned to schools in the worst condition and with fewer special services than those to which white pupils are assigned.

Previous Cases

Nonwhite youngsters comprise only 28 per cent of Waterbury's 13,000 public school students.

Nevertheless, Leonard said, several elementary schools are predominantly nonwhite and "district lines, bus routes, and transfer policies have been drawn so as to insure that pre-

600 Spectators At Long, Noisy Board Session

LANSING (AP) — The touchy subject of sex education in the public schools provoked angry outbursts that threatened to break up a State Board of Education meeting lasting into the morning hours today.

An estimated 600 spectators attended the Lansing meeting, scheduled as a briefing to the board on a report of its advisory committee on sex education.

The board had to move from its original small meeting room into an auditorium used by the State Highway Department for bids on highway contracts.

The crowd wanted to be heard and tried to turn the session into a public hearing. They heckled speakers trying to read the more than 70-page report and waved signs such as "Sex Education With No Moral Guide, We Say No," and "Protect Our Children, No Sex Ed."

Pounds Gavel

Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, had to pound his gavel for order more than a dozen times.

"If the outbursts continue, the public business can not be conducted," Polley warned. "If you can't contain your selves, we'll cancel the meeting."

"We are the public — sit down," shouted back a heckler.

As the meeting dragged past midnight, the board voted to receive the report but not act upon it until after a series of public hearings. Polley said the dates and locations would be announced later. He also said copies of the controversial report would be made available to all those interested.

Some of the objectors were against any teaching at all of sex education in the public schools. Others objected there should be more parental control and participation in any such program.

Family Planning

Still others protested the state still has a law forbidding teaching of birth control methods. They said family planning sections of the proposed guidelines for sex education teaching would violate this law.

Leaders of a group called United Committees of Michigan said they represented some 18 parent and community organizations opposed to sex education being enacted "to put the subject back in the hands of the parents."

Other groups identified themselves as independent organizations from such communities as Grand Rapids, Saginaw, St. Clair Shores, Warren, East Detroit, Roseville, Mount Clemens and Clinton Township.

"I'm a grandmother with three children," announced Mrs. Lisa Sayer of Port Huron, interrupting one of the speakers. "And I've got seven grandchildren. And we never had sex education in the schools."

Cat Calls

The crowd repeatedly groaned, cat called, shouted, "boo," and cried "no," as sections of the report were read. The noisy and often unruly group ranged from young adults to the middle aged to the elderly.

They cheered a minority report by Mrs. Susanne Talt, a housewife from Swartz Creek, a member of the advisory committee.

Receiving the loudest applause were her recommendations that:

—Sex education be entirely voluntary and be offered at a time that parents can attend with their youngsters.

—Boys should attend with their fathers; girls with their mothers.

—Sex education should begin no sooner than junior high school.

—Sex education should not include instruction or discussion of sexual techniques.

Pornography

Board member James O'Neil of Livonia accused Polley of allowing the release of pornography—such as pictures of a nude man and woman — as instructional material in schools. He said this material also showed animals having sexual intercourse.

"It was either misjudgment,

Tobin To Get Highway Job

Claude J. Tobin of Escanaba will be appointed to the State Highway Commission today by Gov. William Milliken.

Announcement of Tobin's appointment will be made at a press conference by the governor at the Holiday Inn in Marquette this afternoon, the Daily Press learned.

Gov. Milliken was scheduled to meet with mayors from Upper Peninsula communities at 1:30 p. m. to discuss problems of the Upper Peninsula and George Weeks, the governor's press secretary, reported Tuesday that an "announcement of interest to the Upper Peninsula" would be made at the news conference.

Tobin, a Democrat, will succeed Richard F. VanderVeem of Grand Rapids, whose term is expiring. He did not seek another appointment.

Other members of the Highway Commission are Charles Hewitt, Grosse Pointe, chairman; Wallace D. Nunn, East Tawas, vice chairman, and Louis A. Fisher of Detroit.

First U. P. Person

Tobin will be the first Upper Peninsula person named to the four-member board since it took control of state highway matters on Jan. 1, 1965, under provisions of Michigan's new constitution.

Upper Peninsula residents have complained repeatedly to Lansing about the lack of state funds channeled into the area for new highway construction and road improvement projects.

Tobin's appointment to the bi-partisan commission was backed locally by the Delta County Republican Committee.

The Commission of two Republicans and two Democrats is empowered to "administer the State Highway Dept. and have jurisdiction and control over state trunkline highways and appurtenant facilities, and such other public works of the state, as provided by law."

Romney Claims HUD In A Financial Mess

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Romney said Tuesday the department he heads inherited financial obligations that available funds can't accommodate. He said the situation is a mess.

Romney, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, asked a Senate Appropriations subcommittee to restore funds cut by the House from housing programs scheduled for the year that ends June 30.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R. I., wanted to know where the mess is, remarking there is no new magic because of a new administration.

"When I say we inherited a mess...we've got obligations way beyond the funds that have been appropriated," Romney said.

In the urban renewal program, he said, $6.5 billion has been obligated but only about $3 billion is available to meet the obligations.

"This program is a mess and we want to try to straighten it out," the former Michigan governor said.

Pastore said the trouble is because Congress makes big authorizations but paltry appropriations.

"We make big promises then we never come through," Pastore said. "Now that's not a mess, that's dereliction."

"I accept your word," Romney replied.

Romney said he was very encouraged by developments in both industry and unions to get his program, Operation Breakthrough, underway to provide volume production of housing.

He said he expects about 1,000 persons from industry to be at a meeting Friday to discuss the proposals.

Ed Reform Commission Told:

U.P. Like Ghettos In School Problems

MARQUETTE (AP) — The ghettos and the Upper Peninsula are alike in that they have handicapped children and school problems, the Governor's Commission on Educational Reform has been told.

The commission met Tuesday at Marquette to hear testimony from Upper Peninsula educators and citizens.

"Somehow we must come up with a special education formula that will help the ghettos with their great numbers and the Upper Peninsula with its children miles apart, because they are handicapped children in both situations," said Katherine Heideman, Copper Country Intermediate school superintendent.

Borrowed Time

Robert Northey, superintendent of Negaunee Schools, cited

the rising cost of teacher contracts.

Prior to 1964, he said, his district paid a total of $569,000 in salaries. He estimated the district will pay out $947,000 in 1970.

"Even though many schools may not be in deficit spending as of this date, we are living on borrowed time," Northey said.

Roger Sidel of Menominee, a member of both public and non-public boards of education, urged the commission "to develop meaningful public assistance for nonpublic schools."

Donald Brumbaugh, Norway-Vulcan area school superintendent said state reimbursement for student transportation should be 100 per cent.

Resent Push

He also suggested it "should be run by the governmental agency that can do it the cheapest."

Brumbaugh also suggested that all school personnel be placed under some form of civil service.

School districts should be reorganized so no district has fewer than 2,000 students to offer improved programs, said Bruce Wolek, Portage Township school superintendent.

Legislation should include "financial encouragement for school districts to merge," he said.

Disagreement on this proposal came from Harris Kahl, Rudyard Township school superintendent.

"People resent being pushed around," Kahl said. "The reorganization that took place in 1965 was poorly conceived and gave no consideration to a small district if they wanted to be attached to a larger district."

Death Claims John Ranta

John Ranta, 89, of Rock died at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday at St. Francis Hospital where he had been a patient for three weeks.

He was born Dec. 28, 1879 in Finland and was a member of the Faith Lutheran Church of Rock.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Carl (Myda) Sollberger of Evanston, Ill., Mrs. Harold (Arleen) Forst of Chicago and Mimi Ranta, Chicago and one grandson.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home after 9 a. m. Friday and the body will be taken to the Faith Lutheran Church at 12 noon Friday. Services will be conducted there at 1 p. m. with the Rev. Peter Laaninen officiating. Burial will be in the Rock Cemetery.

Nine Men Pass State Wastewater Certification Test

Nine Upper Peninsula men passed 1969 examinations for certification as wastewater treatment plant operators, announced Cletus Courchaine, engineer in charge of the Northern Peninsula Office of the Michigan Department of Public Health. Receiving certificates were:

Class C — Lee Hauswirth, Portage Lake Sewage Authority; Hancock: Robert Jacke, Escanaba; John Rintamaki, Newberry; James Shepich, Stambaugh.

Class D — Dennis Aicher, Gladstone; Gabriel Gadeau, White Pine; Ted Evanoff, Ontonagon; George Rough, K. I. Sawyer AFB, and Kenneth Shirkey, Kincheloe AFB.

These persons are certified as to competency by the department to be in responsible charge of sewage treatment works of the same class in which certification is earned, Courchaine said.

All wastewater treatment plants in the U.P. are presently under the supervision of a certified operator, and several plants have more than one, he said. There are now 80 operators certified in the Upper Peninsula. Courchaine said the men are the backbone of Michigan's water pollution control program and are to be commended for the public service they provide.

Gladstone Considers New Home-Ownership Program

GLADSTONE—Ann Scherrie of Chicago, a representative of the U. S. Housing and Urban Development Administration, told members of the Gladstone Housing Commission and City Commission Monday night that the chances of Gladstone participating in a home-ownership program for low income families is excellent.

Michael LaPine, chairman of the Housing Commission, introduced Miss Scherrie, who said the program is specifically designed to permit young families in lower income brackets to eventually own their own homes without an initial down payment.

According to Miss Scherrie, the program is administered by the Rules and Occupancy division of HUD. She said low income families would be selected by the local housing commission to participate in the program.

Monthly payments would be about 20 per cent of the total family income, she added.

Equity Retained

The family income would be evaluated periodically and adjustments made in payments, she said, pointing out that if the family income increases greatly the family might be permitted to negotiate their own loan to bring the contract to completion before the end of the 25-year period.

Equity accumulated in the home would be retained by the prospective owner with the federal government subsidizing the mortgage costs. Primarily, the prospective owner would be earning his own home by doing the maintenance work, she said.

According to the lease-purchase agreement, homes must be kept in top condition at all times or the contract could be terminated.

Sites for the homes would be selected throughout the city by the local housing commission and housing plans designated by the commission which would be two, three or four bedroom units suitable to the family purchasing the home.

Miss Scherrie said the home-ownership program has been in effect for two years with the first occupancy in Rockford, Ill., in Aug. 1968. Manistique presently is considering the program, she added.

Must Apply First

The experience gained by the Housing Commission in obtaining federal funds for its apartment building for elderly citizens would be very helpful in implementing the program. Miss Scherrie had high praise for Fairview Manor and complimented the Housing Commission and City Manager H. J. Henrikson for the "extras" in the building, including carpeting and draperies.

Osteopath Cited In Abortion Case

DETROIT (AP) — An osteopath captured last week in a police helicopter raid on a Detroit motel in which he was allegedly about to conduct an abortion has been charged also with violating the state's dangerous drug act.

Police said an analysis of 13 capsules found in Richard C. Holding's possession in the raid showed they contained barbituric acid, a depressant.

Holding stood mute at his Tuesday arraignment on the drug charge and was released on $1,000 bond. Pretrial examination was set for July 29.

The 56-year-old Detroit resident is free on $5,000 bond on the abortion charge pending another pretrial hearing July 29. He also faces a federal charge of making a false statement to obtain a Federal Housing Authority loan. Bond in that case is $2,000.

House Defeats Long Trailers

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan House has thrown a stop sign in front of the state's budding trailer and mobile home industry.

In a surprise action Tuesday, the lower chamber voted 52-47 against a bill introduced by Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, to add five feet to the present 60-foot maximum trailer length.

Opponents of the measure, Republicans and Democrats alike, charged the mammoth vehicles are a highway menace, particularly when drawn behind tractors that may add 20 more feet to the over-all length of the unit.

Supporters of Lockwood's bill called it a support for low-cost housing and a homegrown industry.

But as Lockwood looked on, Rep. Raymond Smit, R-Ann Arbor, argued that a State Highway Department study concluded trailers now have grown the maximum length that allows safe, adequate navigation of highways and freeway interchanges.

Rep. Thomas J. Anderson, D-Southgate, proposed an amendment to require such trailers and their tractor vehicles be preceded and followed by safety vehicles.

Before its ultimate rejection, Rep. Gerrit Hasper, D-Muskegon, proposed an amendment to require such processions to park for 15 minutes whenever six automobiles were backed up waiting to pass.

The amendment was withdrawn.

Despite Cold Weather, Campers Enjoy Harstad

BY SALLY BARRETT

"Isn't it ever warm here?" That was the comment Tuesday of one of 41 campers at Rotary's Camp Harstad at Ford River, but despite the chilly weather which has limited swimming activity, the campers are keeping busy with other activities.

A big fire was roaring in the fireplace as many children were drawing pictures, playing records, building birdhouses or playing checkers. Everyone had found something to do.

Outside, a rousing game of dodge-ball kept many youngsters warm.

The children do not have to follow any regimented schedule, but as director Henry Wylie said, "We like to say we operate on a free-choice program."

Assigned duties are given to every child and they are performed willingly. Ringing the bell for lunch is the most preferred responsibility.

With the lake level up about 20 inches, the beach has been greatly reduced, but the incoming water has brought many treasures for the youngsters. On the beach was a pile of driftwood that had accumulated for three weeks. The campers use the driftwood for arts and crafts, and many collect it to take home.

The selection of handicapped or otherwise disadvantaged children for Camp Harstad is based on a referral questionnaire usually filled out by the elementary teacher. Since 60 applications were returned, some screening had to be done.

"Being chosen on a basis of need can involve many different things," said Wylie as he referred to the 41 selected campers ranging from ages 5 to 12.

The camp has a staff of eight, including the cook and Wylie, but there are also many other persons that have devoted their time and efforts.

Rotary is the sponsor of the camp, the Escanaba Area Schools allow use of a bus for transportation, elementary teachers write referrals, the Delta-Menominee Health Department helps in giving physical exams and TB tests to the campers and staff, and Bay de Noc Community College provides three counselors through its work study program and also a different nurse each week as a part of its nurses training program.

The highpoint of the day is at 11:30 when the aromas from Mrs. Ann Brazeau's kitchen reach many little noses.

An orderly line is formed for washing hands while one child is assigned to hold a roll of paper toweling. With the ring of the bell they file into the dining room where a piping hot meal is served. What were once noisy, energetic youngsters are now quiet, hungry eaters as a hush falls over the room.

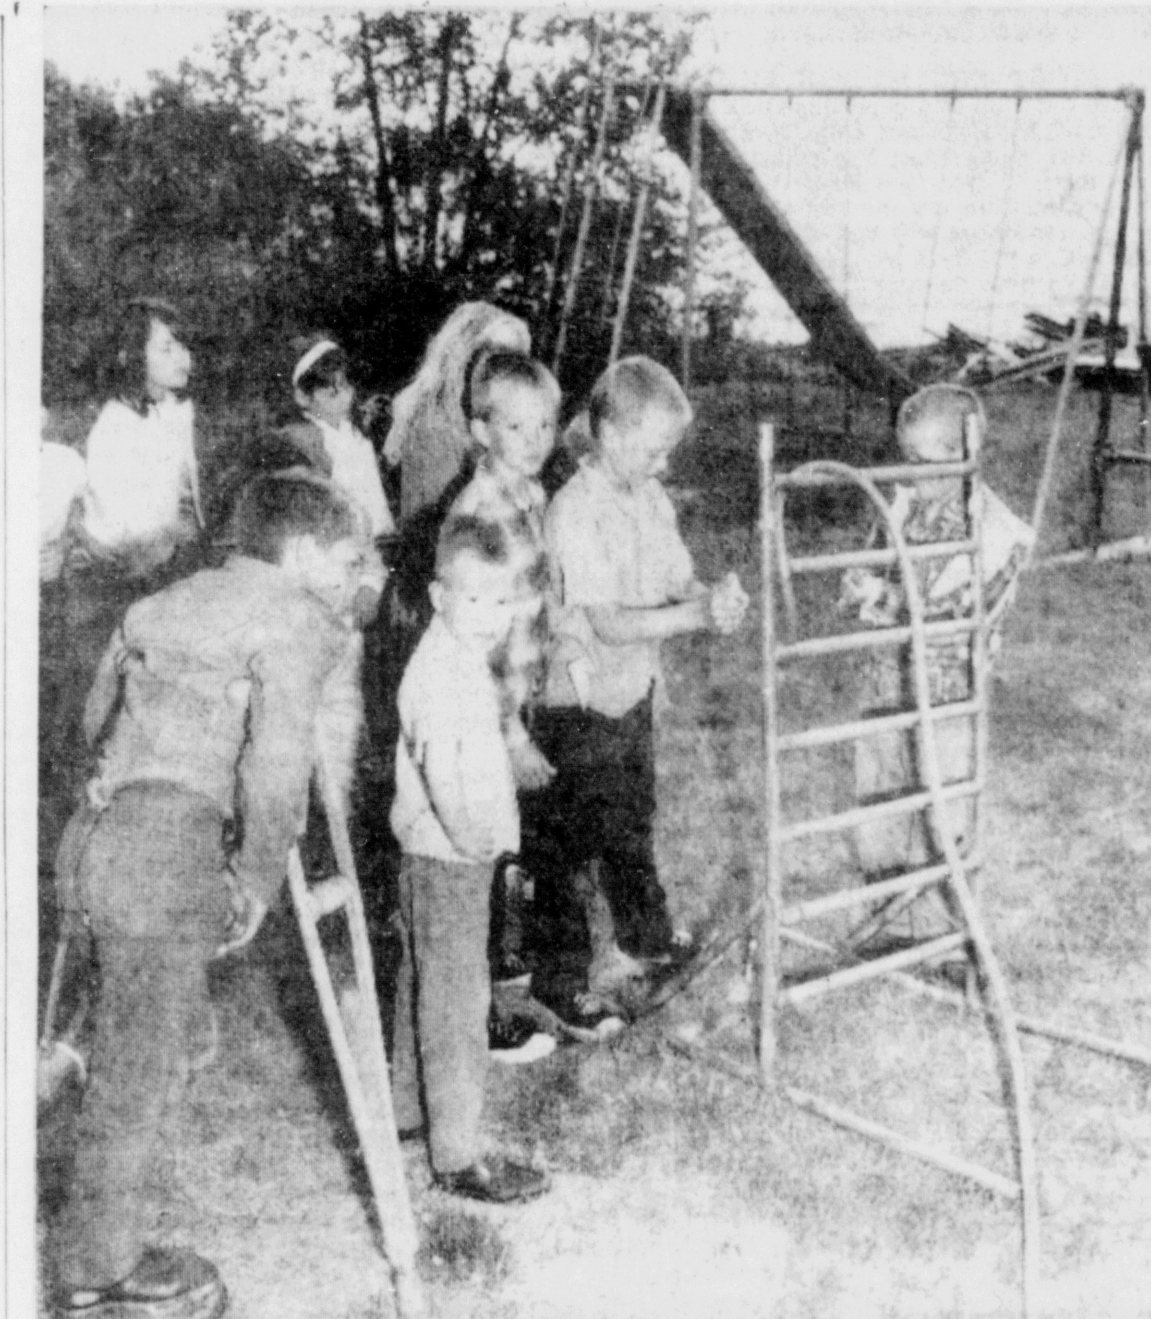

Despite the high cost of food, Mrs. Brazeau, who has worked at the camp for 10 years, manages to have hearty, home-cooked meals and has chicken at least once a week. Through the U. S. D. A. Donated Commodities, the camp has been able to get surplus foods such as beans, butter, flour, peanut butter, raisins and canned chopped meat.

Throughout the camping day, extending from 9:20 a. m. to 3 p. m., the children can participate in various activities. There is a baseball diamond, volleyball net, badminton, swimming, arts and crafts and boats. Vivid imaginations are also alive to create new games.

For example, a number of the youngsters seemed to disappear for a while. Later it was discovered that the smaller building, that's part of the camp, had become the dungeon for "captured prisoners." Found within were about 10 "criminals" behind bars enjoying the heat of the stove.

Rotary Camp Harstad provides an opportunity for the children to meet and associate with other children and learn to enjoy outdoor life.

The children acquire new experiences with the help of the counselors; Jean Finlan, Ann Schmidt, Janice Ferguson, Mike Olson; director, Mr. Wylie, and Mrs. Brazeau.

Police Detectives Stage Protest

DETROIT (AP) — About 200 off-duty Detroit police detectives staged a silent half hour demonstration outside police headquarters protesting what they called Police Commissioner Johannes Spreen's "unresponsive attitude" toward their demand for more promotions.

The detectives, led by Detroit Police Detectives Association President Eljay Bowron, were protesting Spreen's failure to promote men under an agreement made by Spreen's predecessor, Ray Girardin, to promote 70 per cent of the detectives to detective sergeants.

Bowron charged that Spreen has promoted only 42 per cent of the detectives, leaving 138 positions unfilled. The promotions give a pay increase of $886 a year.

Bedard Makes Eagle Scout

At a Court of Honor conducted Monday evening by Boy Scout Troop 408, John Bedard was awarded the rank of Eagle Scout. The Eagle Scout award is the highest rank in Scouting. Only 2% of the Scouts ever achieve this award.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Bedard of 307 South 8th Street. He has been active in scouting for the past four years and plans to leave for the National Scout Jamboree in Idaho this week. John will be a Junior at Holy Name High School next year.

Reverend Ben Helmer, his former Scoutmaster, conducted the Eagle Scout Investiture.

Eric Rose was awarded the rank of Star Scout during the Court of Honor ceremonies.

Troop 408 is led by Scoutmaster Glen Tollefson and Assistant Scoutmaster Melvin Karkainen.

Local Serra Club To Receive Charter

The Escanaba Serra Club will observe its Charter Night on July 15 at the House of Ludington starting at 7 p. m. This Club has been in formation for nearly two years. It draws its members from many parishes, businesses and professions. Serrans meet twice monthly at luncheon meetings.

The Serra movement began Feb. 27, 1935, in Seattle, Wash. when four laymen met to exchange ideas on Catholic thought. The men agreed that the great need of the times was dedicated Christian leaders who understand completely their own Christian vocation. The same objective of this movement is true today.

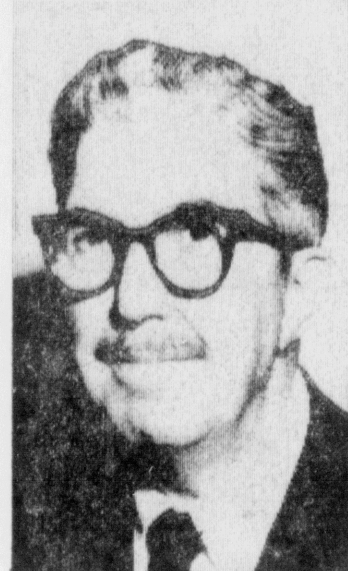

The late Cardinal Stritch said this about Serrans: "They must be leaders with big Christian vision, men who can bring about a great Christian social renaissance. The first function of a Serra Club is to give us trained, resolute men who will stand for things Christian."

The name, Serra, was taken from that of Father Junipero Serra, the Spanish Franciscan missionary who played a leading part in the early missionary efforts in Mexico and California.

The Escanaba Serra Club, the first in the Upper Peninsula, will receive its Charter and become a part of Serra International Tuesday, July 15.

In so doing, it joins more than 340 clubs in 43 of the United States and 25 other countries throughout the world. It numbers 14,000 members.

The guest speaker and official representative of Serra International for the Charter Night observance in Escanaba will be Dr. Charles Weigel, of Chicago. Delegations of other Serra clubs will also be here for the occasion.

Phasing Out Cigarette Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cigarette commercials on most of the nation's television stations would be phased out over a four-year period under a surprise recommendation by the TV Code Review Board of the National Association of Broadcasters.

The plan, which would eliminate all cigarette commercials from subscribing networks and stations by Sept. 1, 1973, must be approved by the association's TV board of directors before it becomes effective.

The phase-out would apply specifically to the three national networks and 64.4 per cent of the nation's 623 commercial stations which subscribe to the NAB television code.

In other action, the review board moved to prohibit cigarette commercials in or adjacent to any program directed primarily at young audiences.

Bond Formula

The Legislature has divided up Michigan's $100 million recreation bond money and Gov. William Milliken, who is in Marquette today meeting with mayors of the area, is happy.

"Legislators of both parties are to be commended for acting in the public interest by resolving differences and adopting a fair and responsible plan which will enable us to keep faith with the voters by expanding recreational facilities throughout Michigan, while giving special attention to urgent recreation needs of the urban areas."

The governor notes that the plan does not conform to his original formula, but that he is "pleased that the allocation reflects the principles I outlined and earmarks $25 million for state projects in or near urban areas."

Milliken had asked that $30 million be allocated for urban projects, $30 million to local communities and $40 million to the Department of Natural Resources for state projects. The formula supported by the Department of Natural Resources and most of the state's outdoor people would have given the DNR $70 million for state projects and left $30 million for local communities.

The bill approved was poorly camouflaged to represent the 70-30 formula most people in out-state Michigan thought they were voting for last November.

While the Department of Natural Resources will get $70 million of the bond money, $25 million is "earmarked" for urban projects. Coupled with the lion's share of the $30 million for local communities on a population basis, the urban interests will wind up with nearly $50 million of the bond money instead of the nearly $55 million recommended originally by the governor.

But if Milliken scored a "victory" with adoption of a formula so close to his original recommendation, he did not escape without some bruises. People in the Upper Peninsula and the northern part of lower Michigan who voted in favor of the bill while Wayne County — the area which will benefit most under the formula — voted against it are still more than a little disgruntled by the whole situation.

"What we ended up with was a division that clearly favored the urban areas of the state," said Rep. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee). "I opposed this all the way because I felt the Legislature had an obligation to keep faith with the people."

Some will argue, of course, that Jacobetti is critical of the Republican governor's proposals because he (Jacobetti) wears Democratic party colors, but the recreation bond formula was not particularly a partisan issue. Republicans and Democrats lined up on both sides of the fence.

The formula — adopted by the House after a revolt in the ranks was squashed by calling a few political IOUs — reflects urban interests as proposed by Gov. Milliken and it was passed by urban representatives, who could do little else under the circumstance but vote money into their own pockets.

But despite what the governor says about "keeping faith" with the voters, the formula still represents a "sell out" by Lansing.

There was little doubt last November about the distribution of the money. Had the proposal been to give over half of the cake to the cities, it would have failed.

The cities need recreational facilities. No argument there. "Stealing" the recreational bond fund, however, wasn't the way to get them.

In The Real World

The recent collision between President Nixon and advocates of disarmament operating within the government was inevitable.

With the U. S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency as a base, disarmament partisans have gained ground steadily in Washington in recent years and exercised unusual influence over defense policies.

They consistently have opposed development of new weapons systems on grounds they would make arms-control agreements with the Soviet Union more difficult, and they now are lobbying against President Nixon's plans to deploy an anti-ballistic missile defense system (ABM) which would protect America's nuclear retaliatory capability from a possible enemy first strike.

Nixon, on the other hand, came to office pledging strong defense measures. It was simply a matter of time before he had to meet the disarmament lobbyists head-on. Either his policies or theirs would prevail.

When the moment came, the President did not retreat from his commitments, or temporize in his recent speech to the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Nixon met the issue squarely. He told the graduating class:

"One school of thought holds that the road to understanding with the Soviet Union and Communist China lies through a downgrading of our own alliances and what amounts to a unilateral reduction of our arms as a demonstration of good faith . . .

"They assert that the United States is blocking the road to peace by maintaining its military strength at home and its defense forces abroad. If we would only reduce our forces, they contend, tensions would disappear . . . I hold a totally different view of the world . . .

"We must rule out unilateral disarmament. In the real world that simply will not work. If we pursue arms control as an end in itself, we shall not achieve our end. The adversaries in the world today are not in conflict because they are armed. They are armed because they are in conflict, and have not yet learned peaceful ways to resolve their conflicting national interests . . .

The outcome of the battle between President Nixon and the disarmament lobby is not yet clear. Because our ability to defend ourselves is directly involved, the future of the country may hang in the balance.

Should Oil Depletion Allowance Be Altered?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

President Nixon had to promise "prompt and meaningful tax reform" to get his surtax extension bill through the House of Representatives, and where does that leave oil?

Curiously, 16 Texas Congressmen voted for the Nixon bill, while only six voted against it. This would set up a choice between two presumptions: either the Administration has promised to go easy on the 27 per cent oil depletion allowance that has made Texas rich (I always said better Texas than taxes), or oil has become just one among many ways of making a living.

No matter what has been promised, the politics of oil could be in for something of a change, made by holding out for a slightly lower depletion allowance to bring things into line with other extractive industries.

The oil companies, of course, insist that their product pays its fair share of taxes already. They argue that state and local taxes bear down more heavily on oil than on other commodities and services; there are production taxes, severance taxes, franchise taxes, and valorem taxes, and foreign income taxes.

The relation of taxes to earnings does not make oil look unduly profitable. As a matter of record, the rate of return for U.S. oil companies as a whole has averaged less than the rate for the totality of manufacturing companies. Oil is, as economic lingo has it, an extremely capital-intensive business, so a modest return on capital can produce earnings that look deceptively large.

Since the oil companies argue that they have special difficulties to overcome, both in raising the huge amounts of capital they need and in contending with the scores of political units that insist on using oil and gasoline taxes to pay their bills, they think the depletion allowance is necessary to spark the discovery of new reserves.

They buttress their position by citing the military security aspects of maintaining a 30 billion barrel crude reserve backlog.

Historically, the argument for the depletion allowance has been unassailable.

If we had been caught in 1940, for example, with an industrial system that depended on oil from Venezuela and Saudi Arabia, we would have been at the mercy of Hitler's U-boats. We had a bad enough time anyway, for oil from the Gulf states moved to the Atlantic seaboard by coastal tankers which were within the reach of lurking submarines, and often sunk.

Ship Four Bison To Johnson Park

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An old friend of Lyndon B. Johnson is sending the former president a gift.

August A. Busch, Jr., president of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., ordered four bison to be shipped today to Johnson State Park, adjoining the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex.

The shaggy 2-year-old buffaloes will be added to a small herd already at home on several hundred acres of grazing land at the park which was opened recently.

A spokesman for Busch said he and Johnson "have been swapping horses and cattle for years."

Sex Has Become A Guessing Game

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Sex today has become something of a guessing game.

The two sexes have become so outwardly similar that when boy meets girl for the first time it takes them a while to figure out who is who and which is what. If they are both near-sighted, this process may take days.

Such confusion is natural, considering that so many women are determined to dress, talk and think as much like men as possible.

Fortunately, however, there are still ways for the discerning eye to separate the hinds from the hers. Here are a few:

Does it like to loll in a bathtub full of bubbles? It's a woman. Does it still have soap in one ear an hour after taking a morning shower? It's a man.

Light Cigar

If it likes practical jokes, it's masculine. If it hates practical jokes but is willing to marry a practical joker, it's feminine.

Does it gripe, grumble and complain when it carries out the garbage once a week? That's papa. Does it merely give a martyr's sigh when it carries out the garbage the other six days? That's mama.

Can it light its cigar in a howling gale unaided? It's bound to be a male. Is it seemingly unable to light its cigarette in public without help? What could it be but a female?

Ship Four Bison To Johnson Park

ST. LOUIS (AP) — An old friend of Lyndon B. Johnson is sending the former president a gift.

August A. Busch, Jr., president of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., ordered four bison to be shipped today to Johnson State Park, adjoining the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City, Tex.

Orders Tuna

Can it recall a fancied slight or grievance done to it 37 years ago. That's the wife. Is it unable to recall a wrong it did only the day before yesterday? That's the husband.

If it always orders chicken salad or a tuna fish sandwich for lunch, it is a girl. If it would rather have corned beef hash with an egg on top, it's a fellow.

Can it make a good dry martini blindfolded? That's a man. Can't it ever make a good dry martini even with both its eyes wide open? That's a woman—every time.

Does it think money grows on trees? That's the missus. Does it go through life proclaiming aloud that money doesn't grow on trees? That's the mister.

Yes, if necessary, you can still distinguish between the sexes. The only question is—is it usually worthwhile anymore?

Opening lead—three of clubs.

It is true that 90% of bridge players have never played duplicate bridge, and it is equally true that most of them are unaware that duplicate is the best possible training ground for improvement of one's game.

The chief reason for this is that many rubber bridge mistakes are either disregarded or go completely unnoticed, while in duplicate your errors are pointed up by comparing your result with what others have done on the very same cards.

For example, take this deal where South is in three notrump and West leads a club. Declarer plays low from dummy and East wins with the king. Back comes a heart and South's jack loses to the queen.

Another heart lead from West forces out the ace and declarer must now decide how to play the diamonds. He has no way of knowing who has the queen. If he leads a diamond to the king and finesse on the way back, he goes down one when West takes the queen and returns a heart.

In the average rubber bridge game, this result would be chalked up as just an unlucky guess, but in duplicate there is an excellent chance of declarer's learning he had mishandled his assets.

By comparing his result with those of other declarers who had played the hand, he would learn that most of them had made three notrump even though they had also misguessed the diamond.

The key play occurs at trick one when declarer should go up with the ace of clubs, cash the king of diamonds, and finesse the ten. This method of play guarantees the contract 100%, even if the ten loses to West's queen.

When the dummy comes down, South is looking at nine sure tricks consisting of three spades, a heart, four diamonds and a club—and he should not jeopardize them by failing to play the ace of clubs at the very first opportunity.

Statistics On Apollo Craft

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

These are the man-to-the-moon machines on which the lives of the three Apollo 11 astronauts depend:

COMMAND SHIP: Valued at $55 million, the Apollo 11 command ship with its main engine and equipment section attached measures 33 feet high and 13 feet in diameter. Its cone-shaped cockpit is 11 feet tall. Its hull is built primarily of stainless steel and aluminum. Control panels inside permit the crewmen to trigger engines, check for malfunctions in spacecraft subsystems, compute their flight path and communicate with earth and astronauts in the lunar module (LM) landing craft. Its main 20,500-pound-thrust engine must kick Apollo 11 into and out of moon orbit and make course corrections en route to and from earth.

LUNAR MODULE: Built at a cost of $41 million, the spidery four-legged lunar module (LM) will ferry Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. from the orbiting command ship to the moon's surface. It consists of two sections—a descent stage with legs and the braking rocket that will lower the spacemen to the moon and an ascent stage that houses the astronauts and contains the engine used to blast off from the surface back up to the command ship. Standing upright, it measures 23 feet tall.

SATURN 5 ROCKET: Measuring 363-feet-tall with the Apollo spaceship on top, each Saturn 5 man-to-the-moon rocket costs $185 million. It is the most powerful rocket ever launched, able to hurl the 30-ton Apollo spaceship to the moon or put a 125-ton payload into earth orbit.

All-State Ups Car Insurance

SOUTHFIELD (AP)—The All-state Insurance Company has announced its automobile insurance rates will go up in Michigan starting July 7.

Allstate Michigan Regional Manager Donald C. Bolton cited the substantial rise in the cost of accidents as the reason for the increase. Rate hikes on private automobiles will average 9.5 per cent.

The revision follows the action of many other companies which increased their rates in the state within the past 18 months.

Bolton emphasized that rate adjustments would vary in individual cases due to geographical location, age and driving record of each policyholder.

Ann Landers

Super Boosts Not Answer For Teens

Dear Ann Landers: A while back a mother wrote to you about her young daughter who had become involved with a college professor. The girl, age 19, was sent home from school because she became so infatuated with a professor she flunked everything. The mother swore the girl was as pure as the driven snow when she left home, and the professor had taught her considerably more than was in the curriculum. You advised mother to inform the college authorities.

Are you some kind of a nut? What is needed these days is a Protective Society to keep the "innocent young flowers" off the professors' necks. When you suggest that the authorities be notified you jeopardize the man's job and put him in a most unfair position. Shame on you. — Professor's Wife

Dear Wife: I advised the mother to notify the college authorities in order to provide the professor with an opportunity to face his accuser. Sometimes a girl will tell her mother a story she won't repeat before the authorities. At the same time, there are a few professors around who do give A's for adultery. If this particular professor is a swinger type, the school should be aware of it, and I said so.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 17, a high school dropout and no writer. But I have something to say and I hope you will correct my English and print my letter.

You heard so much about kids blowing grass, getting zonked on dillies and stoned on booze. I've gone every route you can think of, including glue and catnip. I'm off everything now and I hope it isn't too late. I worry a lot that maybe I have already burned my brains out and fixed it so my children will be born deformed or retarded.

I have only one thing to say to the cats who are messing around trying to turn themselves on. You won't find any answers there. You might hit on something that gives you a super boost, but remember, everything that goes up must come down. And when you come down you'll be much lower than you were to begin with. — Crazy Punk Trying To Come Back

Dear Tracy: A letter like yours packs a lot more punch than a dozen lectures by someone who is theorizing. And now a word of advice to you: Get back in school and give yourself a break. Seventeen is awfully young to buy a label and wear it forever.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I sold our car and we now ride the bus. We are having a little disagreement about bus etiquette and would like you to settle it.

When we board the bus my husband insists that I go first. But when we get off the bus he steps ahead of me. I think it looks peculiar to see a man get off a bus ahead of a lady. He claims it is correct. What do you say? — Last Off

Dear Off: He's right. The lady boards the bus first, but the man should alight first and assist her by offering his hand.

House Fire Kills 4 At Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP)—Three little boys and their sister died in their flaming bedroom Tuesday as fire roared through a frame house occupied by a family of 10.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Reid, were rescued by firemen from a blazing sunporch on the 2½-story house and four older children jumped from a second-floor window.

Dead are Leslie, 10, James, 9, Francis, 7, and Shirley, 8. Mr. and Mrs. Reid and their four other children were taken to a hospital. Evelyn Reid and three of her children were detained, but extent of their injuries was not known.

The four children who escaped were Edward, 11, Ray, 12, Diane, 14, and Gerry, 16.

The four dead were found by firemen in a bedroom on the second floor. Firemen believe they were all sleeping in the same room when the fire started in the basement.

HOW TO GET this foreign-made auto out of his swimming pool is a problem confronting Robert Howe of Glendale, Calif., pictured with his wife, Helen, and children, Jeff 9, Brad 7, and Stacey 2. The empty auto slipped its parking brakes, crashed an embankment and fell over a 40-foot cliff into the pool Saturday night. Howe says there's no way a wrecker can get in without rearranging the backyard. A waterproof camera with lens half-way in the water was used to make the picture. (AP Wire-photo)

Less Equipment For Ambulances

LANSING (AP)—The State Health Department reports it will ease some of the regulations for minimum equipment required in ambulances licensed by the state.

An act requiring state licensing of ambulances became effective July 1. Existing companies were allowed six months, however, to fully comply with the new act.

The health department said most of the objections concerned the minimum equipment required in each ambulance.

A 10-member advisory committee reached agreement on the following changes.

—Rules call for each ambulance to carry two stretchers, but both may be of the folding variety.

—A split stretcher may not be substituted for a spine board, but a spine board will be acceptable in lieu of one stretcher.

—Paper sheets will be acceptable.

—Two-way communications systems were termed "desirable" but not required.

—At least two pillows must be included with the equipment plus a bagmask or automatic resuscitator.

The department reported 380 ambulances operated by 209 separate firms or services have been licensed to date.

The licensing was termed more than half complete.

Hemophiliac Told He Can Go Home

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Hemophiliac David Jones, 27, of Portland, Ore., was told Tuesday he can return home next week after four months in University of Michigan Hospital, where he had a tumor removed and a leg amputated.

Jones was flown to Ann Arbor April 11 since the hospital has one of the few centers in the nation where operations are performed on patients with hemophilia, normally a hereditary disease in which the blood does not clot.

Doctors said he can go home sometime next week if his present rate of improvement continues. He will have to return to Ann Arbor in two months to be fitted for an artificial limb.

Between $30,000 and $40,000 was raised in Oregon to help him meet hospital costs.

Hornet To Be 'World Car'

DETROIT (AP)—A top American Motors Corp. official Monday said the firm's new small car, the Hornet, slated for introduction in September, is made to appeal to a world market.

AMC board chairman Roy D. Chapin Jr. said the new car is a "world car" made to appeal to a developing world auto market. He said such a car must be desirable, practical and appealing in all of the world's markets.

He said present American economy cars have failed to match foreign imports because they offer only economy alone. Such cars lacked the intangible features of character and personality, he said.

"With the Hornet we are taking the American compact car buyer out of this dilemma by offering him a car with sharply defined individuality of its own," he said.

State Vehicle Code Called Unconstitutional

DETROIT (AP)—A Wayne County Circuit Court decision announced Monday says the section of the state's motor vehicle code forbidding persons receiving workmen's compensation from suing uninsured motorists is unconstitutional.

Under ruling by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Horace W. Gilmore, a man injured in an auto accident can seek damages from an uninsured motorist even though the injured man is covered under workmen's compensation.

"The court fails to see where the existence of workmen's compensation benefits is a reasonable basis for denying recovery," the opinion said. "There appears to be no reasonable basis for such discrimination."

However, the judge said his ruling would not allow a person covered by workmen's compensation to collect twice for the same injury or accident.

"If at a later date the other driver is found to be negligent, the insurance carrier who paid out the workmen's compensation will be reimbursed," Gilmore said.

A spokesman for the attorney general's office in Lansing said an appeal of the judge's decision is under consideration.

The question arose when Charles E. Miller, a Checker Cab driver, was involved in an accident in November, 1967 with James Redd, Miller, driving his cab when the accident occurred, later sued Redd for negligence.

Attorneys for the State argued that Miller was receiving work-

Detroit Sues 14 Bakeries

DETROIT (AP)—The city of Detroit has filed a $1 million damage suit in Federal Court here against 14 bakeries, charging they have engaged in price-fixing. The companies are located in Michigan, Delaware and New York.

Thomas H. Gallagher, chief assistant corporation counsel, said the charges arose after federal grand jury inquiries into price fixing by bakeries in several midwestern states. Among the companies named is Continental Baking Co., a city of Detroit supplier.

men's compensation, and therefore could not sue Redd, who was driving under the state's uninsured motorist plan.

Judge Gilmore said in the court opinion that the section of the law forbidding Miller from suing is "unreasonable and arbitrary."

Kelley Requests Rate Reversal

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has asked the Ingham County Circuit Court to reverse a State Public Service Commission decision granting a $4,179,000 annual rate increase to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

Kelley asked the court to direct the commission "to prescribe just, reasonable and lawful rates in lieu of the excessive rates" established by its order.

The City of Detroit, through corporation counsel Robert Reese, joined in the appeal.

The attorney general said the rate increase, if allowed, would result in "irreparable loss, damage and injury" to customers and ratepayers.

Kelley contended the rate structure allowed by the commission was not supported by the evidence and alleged 12 technical errors figured in the rate allowed.

The attorney general and the City of Detroit also asked for an injunction restraining the new rate schedule from going into effect until the appeal is heard.

Ingham County Circuit Judge Jack Warren ordered the commission to appear Friday to show cause why the rate increase should not be delayed pending the hearing.

Michigan Consolidated had asked for some $27 million annual rate increase. During testimony, it said the utility had not been granted a rate increase since 1960. During that time, the company said, there were three rate reductions amounting to a total of some $4 million a year.

A week ago, Michigan Consolidated appealed the rate increase to the Ingham court asking for a higher rate of return.

All of the rate increase allowed by the commission would be applied to the large volume industrial customers and would not affect the small individual customer using gas for house heating purposes.

Birthday Party

Gina Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Nelson, celebrated her 11th birthday Sunday at her home. Decorations were in pink and maize. Mrs. Stanley Mazur made the cake which was decorated with petite flowers in pink and maize.

The party, originally scheduled for outside, was held in the home because of the inclement weather.

Guests attending were: Connie Davis, Mary and Terri Fazer, Nancy Gardapee, Janice Vorin, Marsha Houghton of Manistique, Mary Sheski, Laurie Carr and Kerri Geline. Miss Patricia Ness of Escanaba assisted with the games. Also present were Gina's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Nelson of Escanaba and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Nelson of Powers.

State Tourney Starts Thursday

Trapshooters Adopt Mason As Their Home

By KENNETH L. PETERSON

MASON (AP) — Trapshooting has been organized in Michigan since the 1920s, but this clay-target sport finally became of age when state shooters adopted this community as their permanent home.

Their new shooting grounds along US-127 just south of here will host the Michigan State Trapshoot Thursday through Sunday for only the second time.

A year ago, officers and directors of the Michigan Trapshooting Association (MTA) might well have had second thoughts about striking out on their own.

Only their enthusiasm overshadowed what had to be considered a shaky financial venture. And they were beset by a seemingly impossible time schedule, to say nothing of almost catastrophic weather conditions.

2,000 Members

The MTA, some 2,000 strong, had decided late in 1967 that it must have its own grounds if it were to keep up with the rapid growth of trapshooting as a competitive sport.

For years it had used the facilities of the Detroit Gun Club near Birmingham, but it was evident in 1966 that the state shoot had outgrown the club's 12 fields. And Detroit is the largest club in Michigan.

After some preliminary talks, the MTA decided in September, 1967, to purchase 228 acres of flat farmland adjoining US-127 and near one of its interchanges.

It wasn't until April, 1968, however, that the first contract was let — for construction of 20 trap fields. Yet the MTA had as its goal a state zone shoot (Lower Michigan is divided into three zones) June 29-30 and the state trap shoot July 11-14.

Nine inches of rain made a quagmire of the fields just a week before the zone shoot, but somehow it was held.

Largest In Country

Two weeks later salt had to be spread on roads to keep the dust down. More than 700 shooters participated in that first state shoot, assuring the MTA that it had the right move in establishing its own shooting fields.

Today the place looks like a well-kept golf course. And the facilities, which include a clubhouse, shower and toilet buildings, are valued at from $200, Hoffa Wiretaps Valueless: Govt.

CHICAGO (AP) — The government maintained Tuesday that information it picked up from Teamster Union automobile telephones in Detroit did not contribute to the conviction of Teamsters president James R. Hoffa of mail fraud.

Hoffa, appealing the 1964 conviction, contends it is invalid because he was not allowed to see wiretap transcripts used in the trial. He was sentenced to five years in prison.

Hoffa now is serving an eight-year sentence in the Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison on a conviction for jury tampering in another trial.

The government introduced an affidavit of a special employee of the FBI, Kenneth E. Bickel, who said he was told to monitor calls placed to automobile telephones by Teamsters officials from July 1961 to January 1963.

In one conversation, the affidavit set forth Hoffa spoke with Roland McMillan, an official of Teamsters Local 299, and said: "There is no answer to your problem."

Another FBI monitoring clerk Theodore Klimaszewski, testified he overheard a conversation between Charles O'Brien, a Detroit union official, and a man identified as "the boss."

The conversation took place in December 1961 and concerned 15 jackets that were to be picked up in Cleveland, Klimaszewski said.

Defense attorney Maurice Walsh objected to the government's introduction of the wiretap logs and declared, "If this is the only production we're going to get, I doubt the value of this hearing."

Judge Richard B. Austin of U.S. District Court, who is conducting the hearing, replied:

"They say that is all they have so what are you going to do about it?"

000 to $250,000. Six more trap fields have been constructed.

The Michigan state shoot already is one of the largest in the country, according to Boyd R. Williams, Davison, president of the MTA.

With its expanded facilities, he said, it has every possibility of becoming the second largest — next to Ohio — in the nation.

Because Ohio holds its state shoot on the grounds of the Amateur Trapshooting Association (ATA) at Vandalia, Williams explained, it has always had the largest state shoot.

ATA is the national trapshooting organization. Its 56 trap fields annually host the Grand American Trapshoot, the largest clay-target event in the country.

First to build such an extensive layout for state shooters, Michigan is being watched by other state organizations that either do not have their own grounds or who do not have adequate shooting facilities, Williams said.

Mobile Family Is New Market

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Today's mobile family represents a new and growing market for retailers, reports a study at Michigan State University.

Dr. James Bell, in a study for the MSU Bureau of Business and Economic Research, said one of five Americans make a change of residence every year.

"The geographically mobile segment of the population is now larger than the entire Negro population," Bell said.

Bell studied 148 families who completed long distance moves into Philadelphia. He discovered they share certain characteristics.

They are relatively young, well educated, in higher status occupations, earn above average income, in higher social classes and have been geographically mobile in the past.

These mobile families, Bell said, will total some 15 million by 1975.

The housewife in a new area, he found, usually selects her favorite supermarket within the third week after shopping three or four food outlets. The first appliance purchase also generally is made during the third week.

Furniture usually is purchased during the sixth week and a family physician is chosen, usually by the wife, in the seventh week.

Canada Making French, English Official Tongues

OTTAWA (AP) — The Senate considers a bill today making French and English the official languages of Canada's federal government. The House of Commons passed it Monday.

The Senate, an appointed body, is expected to approve the measure.

There was no opposition expressed in Commons when the bill received third reading approval on a voice vote. Fewer than half the 264 members of Parliament were present at the time.

The bill is designed to guarantee equal language rights for Canada's French-speaking minority. It sets up a commission and provides for establishment of bilingual districts where the commission finds that at least 10 per cent of the population does not speak the prevailing tongue.

In effect, the bill gives French-speaking persons in designated bilingual districts the right to trial in French, the right to consult federal officials in French and the right to apply for jobs in French.

However, the measure will not affect public schools, which are run by provincial governments. Most schools outside of Quebec—the only province with a French-speaking majority—conduct classes only in English.

Warm Weather Aids Farmers

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's crops benefited from warmer weather during the past week.

An average of nearly four days of the week was considered fit for fieldwork, said the State Crop Reporting Service.

The first cutting of hay was about 55 per cent complete. The quality of much of the hay was poor. Some farmers were unable to get in to cut hay because of muddy fields.

All crop planting was complete with the exception of dry field beans, now about 90 per cent complete.

Farmers were cultivating fields and applying fertilizer to row crops. Weed control continued to be a problem in some areas. The thinning of sugar beets was nearing completion. The oat crop development continued to lag behind normal. Less than half of the crop was headed compared to the normal of 55 to 65 per cent.

The strawberry harvest was past the peak in the northwest part of the state. The Upper Peninsula harvest was just starting. Rains were hampering the harvest and some berry rot was reported.

The sweet cherry harvest was moving into full swing in the southwest area of the state. The harvest of tart cherries for processing was just getting underway. Uneven ripening was causing growers some problems.

Moon Will Get Quake Detectors

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Three scientific instruments to be placed on the lunar surface by the Apollo 11 astronauts may reveal for the first time how much the moon quakes and wobbles.

The instruments could tell scientists how rapidly continents on earth are drifting apart and whether the moon's interior is molten mass or solid rock. They may also "hear" meteors striking the surface and find gas particles in radiation streaming through space from the sun.

Called EASEP for Early Apollo Scientific Experiments Package, the devices were designed to help man unlock the secrets of the origin and structure of the moon. The gas particle collector will be brought back by the astronauts. But the two other instruments will operate long after Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. leave the moon.

Man Is There

"The scientific return, because man is there on the moon, is significant," said John W. Small, chief of the lunar surface projects office at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Manned Spacecraft Center.

If the space agency attempted to land and deploy the same experiments on an unmanned flight, "the automatic devices for putting the equipment off, locating them very precisely and leveling them would require many, many more pounds. And probably you'd have to cut your complexity down," he observed.

Packed inside a compartment in Apollo 11's lunar module are: —A seismic station that can detect the slightest motions on or within the lunar crust.

Aldrin is to place it about 70 feet away from the LM. After carrying it to the site, he will pull a lanyard to release spring mechanisms that open power-producing solar panels.

Laser Reflector

—A solar wind composition experiment consisting of a piece of aluminum foil, one foot by three, unrolled like a window shade and held upright on a telescoping stand.

Aimed broadside toward the sun, the sail-like device is to trap particles of gases including helium, neon, argon, krypton, and xenon driven by the solar wind. Armstrong and Aldrin are to roll the foil up again and bring it back with them for analysis.

—A laser reflector, measuring about 2½ feet square, which will reflect, like a mirror, a laser beam from earth.

By measuring the time it takes for the beam to strike the reflector and bounce back to earth, scientists expect to know, within inches, exactly how far the moon is from earth.

Monitor Footsteps

Laser measurements from different points on earth over a long time could reveal how fast continents are drifting apart, proving or disproving theories that Africa and South America, for example, were once one big continent. The laser reflector is expected to operate for up to 10 years.

The seismic station is sensitive enough that people on earth expect to hear the footsteps of Armstrong and Aldrin as they crunch around the surface. During a test on earth, a similar seismometer in New York State monitored an Alaskan earthquake and produced data that a 200-pound seismometer, placed next to it as a standard, did not record.

Coffin Carried To Capitol Steps In Peaceful Rally

LANSING (AP) — A mock coffin containing a skeleton was carried to the State Capitol steps Tuesday by a group of youngsters opposed to smoking and drugs.

Near 1,000 youths from the Seventh-Day Adventist Church camp meeting at Grand Ledge staged the peaceful and colorful demonstration.

Gov. William Milliken was presented with a petition containing some 10,000 signatures. The petition urged the creation of an educational program in the public schools on the dangers of smoking to health and requested the banning of cigarette advertising on radio and television.

The young people carried hand lettered signs with such slogans as "Save America's Teens — Out Cigarettes", "Commit Suicide The Slow Way—Smoke" and "Smoking Causes Coffin."

The demonstration was part of a program sponsored by the church in opposition to both smoking and drugs.

Dick Kenney, former Michigan State football star who specialized as a barefoot place kicker, presented a lecture against smoking later in the day.

"Too often today the general public gains the impression that young people do not care about some very significant issues," Milliken told them.

MIRRORS ON THE MOON — The Laser Ranging Retro-Reflector held by test engineer is an array of precision optical reflectors that will serve as a target for Earth-based laser systems. The reflector will allow precise measurement of the Earth-Moon distance.

MOONQUAKE TEST — Edwin E. Aldrin, Lunar Module Pilot, has just deployed the passive seismometer as he will on the surface of the moon. The instrument will relay seismic information for up to a year.

Newspaper Want Ads are a big sell! One billion, twenty one million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all magazine advertising combined and more than 300 million more than radio advertising.

"UP TO HERE" — During a news conference at the White House, President Nixon declares people in big cities and small towns across the nation are "fed up to here" with crime and violence.

Main Arguments On Safeguard

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the main arguments for and against the Safeguard antiballistic missile—ABM—system as presented to the Senate by majority and minority members of the Armed Services Committee:

For: "The hard truth is that by the mid-1970s, unless we continue to make appropriate decisions to threats to our Minuteman and bomber retaliatory forces, and to our Polaris (submarine) forces, the second-strike capability of a large proportion of our strategic deterrent will be in doubt."

Against: "We believe that with our Polaris fleet, our land-based ICBMs, our strategic bombers, and the thousands of additional nuclear warheads we have at sea and abroad, if we were attacked we could destroy the Soviet Union some 50 times over."

For: "It is believed that the Safeguard system will provide the Minuteman with sufficient protection to make it a credible deterrent."

Against: "Even if Safeguard works perfectly as designed, it will do practically nothing in protecting Minuteman sites."

For: "The testing and design work on both the missile, the radar components, and the computers so far have not indicated that there are insuperable technological problems confronting the Safeguard system."

Against: "There is reason to doubt that the long-range radar (PAR) and the short-range radar (MSR), parts of which have not been built yet alone tested, will operate successfully together in that almost instantaneous manner which would be necessary in case of sudden attack. There is even more reason to doubt that the computer, which has been neither built nor tested, and which is admittedly far more complicated than any computer yet attempted, will operate properly when called upon to do so."

For: "It is not believed that the procurement program proposed for the fiscal year 1970 should jeopardize (arms limitation) talks with Soviet Russia or cause an escalation of the arms race."

Against: "If we proceed with this system, the Soviet Union will respond by increasing its offensive strength so as to negate any possible advantage which might be derived from said Safeguard deployment. The result could only be a further escalation of the arms race."

State Ag Staff To Be Increased

LANSING (AP) — The State Agriculture Department reports the staff of its fruit and vegetable inspection service will increase from some 30 to more than 130 as temporary inspectors are hired during the summer months. Red tart cherries, apples, pears and seed potatoes must be inspected under Michigan law. The inspectors also checked 22 other commodities last year at the request of growers and processors.

Governor Accepts Resignation

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has accepted the resignation of Lynn Baldwin of Eaton Rapids from the State Water Resources Commission. Baldwin has been a commission member for 16 years. Milliken praised him as "a dedicated conservationist whose efforts have greatly benefited the people of Michigan."

E&LS Railroad Asks Injunction Against Mead

The Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad Co. of Wells today asked for an injunction in Delta County Circuit Court prohibiting Mead Corp. from removing E&LS spur tracks and otherwise interfering with the railroad's rights-of-way at the Escanaba Paper Co.

Complaint was filed by Attorney Clair Hoeft of Gladstone for L. L. Hamilton, general manager of the railroad, and declares that in 1911 a predecessor company to Mead gave property rights and rights-of-way at the plant to the E&LS. In return the railroad agreed to construct a bridge and tracks and furnish rail service.

"We are forced to ask for this injunction because Mead is disregarding our rights," said Hamilton. "We have to protect railroad property rights that we have held for nearly 60 years and which the paper company has recognized for all that time."

The action alleges that on or about April 6 the paper mill built an obstruction over E&LS tracks, refusing and denying the E&LS its proper use of its trackage at the paper mill.

Asks Relief

It further alleges that the E&LS has no adequate remedy at law and has no relief other than offered by a Court of Equity and asks "relief in the premises as to this court may seem equitable" after a hearing.

Mead Corp is in the midst of a major expansion project at the Escanaba Paper Co. and the new addition to the office building blocks E&LS tracks near the paper mill's side of the railroad bridge over the Escanaba River.

O. C. Christiansen, general manager of the Escanaba Paper Co., when asked for a comment today by the Daily Press, said the company has not yet seen the suit filed in court.

"When the new expansion was proposed, because of the location of the machine, we got access to two railroads other than the E&LS," he said.

"The E&LS was offered full opportunity to participate and they elected not to construct a new bridge that would have been necessary for them to continue service into the plant," he said.

"There were many and full discussions on all these points," Hamilton said the railroad is "not obstructing their expansion program" in filing the action.

No More Traffic

"We recognize that it's a fine thing for the community," he said. "Because of that we co-operated in solving some major problems in connection with the expansion."

"We had no sooner done this when we were abruptly informed by the Dayton headquarters of Mead that the E&LS would handle no more of their Escanaba traffic after the expansion was completed," he said.

Hamilton said that several attempts have been made by the E&LS to resolve the property problems, but these proposals have never received serious consideration by Mead Corp.

These arrangements generally have survived court tests and the current government position is aimed at alleged civil rights violations not involving the church-state issue.

Stocks Lower; Trading Slow

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to slide lower in slow trading early this afternoon, with losses leading gains by more than 400 issues and the Dow Jones industrial average off more than 6 points.

The DJI at noon was off 6.73 at 863.62. Its closing low for the year of 869.76 was reached June 27. The indicator fell 12.86 points Tuesday, its biggest single day loss since Feb. 17.

The dull trading, an analyst said, "indicates there's no great rush to sell." And another remarked that "there's almost a complete lack of buying interest and no incentive to buy. The market appears to be failing of its own weight."

Brokers said the market's steep decline Tuesday had made many investors "quite cautious, so you seem to have a lot of cash sitting on the sidelines and waiting to see how much lower the market might go before deciding to get back in and buy."

Concern over the fate of the income tax surcharge extension bill continues to weigh on the market, an analyst said. Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy has said wage and price controls would have to be considered if the extension bill died and other inflation controlling methods failed.

Also continuing to curb investor enthusiasm, they said, was the tense Mideast situation as well as an apparent lack of constructive developments.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.3 at 307.3, with industrials off 2.9, rails off .5, and utilities off .2.

Good Instinct

White says, "What could have been made of an open charge that the Nixon leaders were saboteurs of the peace one cannot guess; how quickly it might, if aired, have brought the last 48 hours of the American campaign to squalor is a matter of speculation."

"But," he added, "the good instinct of that small town boy Hubert Humphrey prevailed. Fully informed of the sabotage of the negotiations and the recalcitrance of the Saigon government, Humphrey might have won the presidency of the United States by making it the prime story of the last four days of the campaign. He was urged by several members of his staff to do so."

But, White reports, Humphrey refused to air the story despite urgings from some in his campaign staff.

Stocks Lower; Trading Slow

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to slide lower in slow trading early this afternoon, with losses leading gains by more than 400 issues and the Dow Jones industrial average off more than 6 points.

The DJI at noon was off 6.73 at 863.62. Its closing low for the year of 869.76 was reached June 27. The indicator fell 12.86 points Tuesday, its biggest single day loss since Feb. 17.

The dull trading, an analyst said, "indicates there's no great rush to sell." And another remarked that "there's almost a complete lack of buying interest and no incentive to buy. The market appears to be failing of its own weight."

Brokers said the market's steep decline Tuesday had made many investors "quite cautious, so you seem to have a lot of cash sitting on the sidelines and waiting to see how much lower the market might go before deciding to get back in and buy."

Concern over the fate of the income tax surcharge extension bill continues to weigh on the market, an analyst said. Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy has said wage and price controls would have to be considered if the extension bill died and other inflation controlling methods failed.

Also continuing to curb investor enthusiasm, they said, was the tense Mideast situation as well as an apparent lack of constructive developments.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.3 at 307.3, with industrials off 2.9, rails off .5, and utilities off .2.

Gladys Swarthout, Soprano, Dies

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — Gladys Swarthout, the soprano whom critics called "the best female singer in the opera world" during the 1930s died here Monday, it was reported today. She was 65.

A native of Deepwater, Mo., Miss Swarthout spent a few years with the Chicago Civic Opera before making her debut at New York's Metropolitan Opera in 1929.

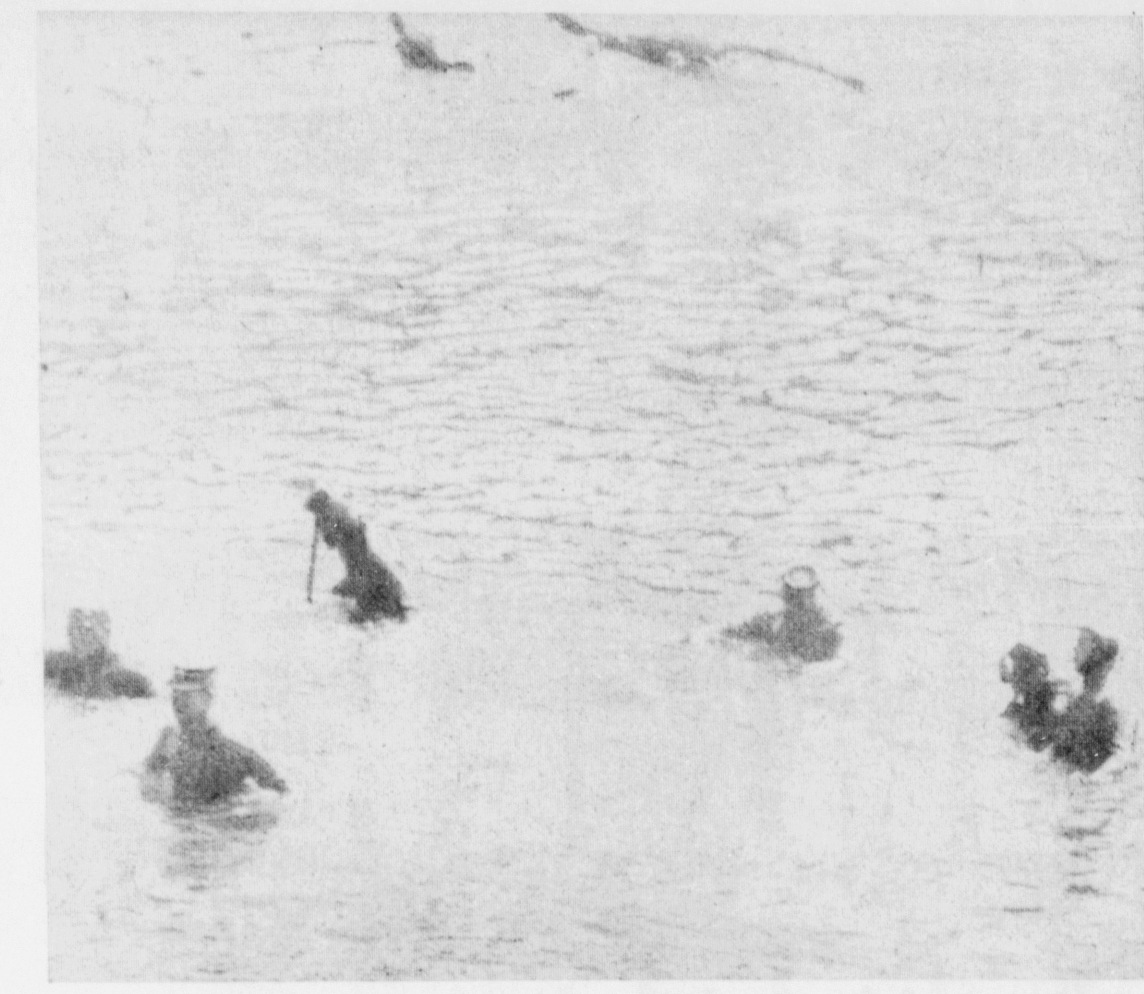

Her success was sudden and lasting. She was the top female star of the Metropolitan in the 1930s and was acclaimed by critics in the United States and Canada.

She had been living for several years in Florence, the Renaissance city which she fell in love with during a tour of Italy to improve her Italian.

MICHIGAN STATE POLICE SKINDIVERS probe the bottom of the Huron River just east of Ann Arbor in the search for the .22 caliber gun thought to have killed Margaret Phillips, University of Michigan graduate student. (Scene is at US 23 bridge near Geddes Road, east of A.A.) (AP Wirephoto)

Fail To Find Weapon

Prosecution Reveals Case Against Bishop

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The prosecution today reveals some of its evidence against a 28-year-old Ann Arbor man accused in the fatal shooting of a University of Michigan coed, the seventh young woman slain in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area in the last two years.

Washtenaw County Prosecutor William Delhey said two of the ten witnesses he plans to call in a preliminary hearing will support the prosecution's contention that Ernest Bishop Jr. shot Margaret Anne Phillips, 25, in her apartment Saturday night.

At the hearing before District Judge S. J. Elden, set to begin at 9:30 a.m., the prosecution seeks to show that a crime was committed and that there is "reasonable cause" to suspect that Bishop is guilty.

If the prosecution's case can support both contentions, Bishop will be bound over for trial in Washtenaw County Circuit Court.

Fruitless

Meanwhile, attempts at recovering what may have been the murder weapon from the murky Huron River have proved fruitless in two days of searching by State Police skindivers.

Despite the use of metal detectors, a dam to reduce the depth of the river and an experiment in which Bishop threw stones from a bridge, police have yet to recover a .22 caliber pistol former roommate of Bishop said he threw in the river from the bridge carrying U.S. 23.

ter Krasny, who said earlier there was a 50-50 chance Bishop may have been connected with two of the other six murders, Tuesday added police are investigating a possible connection with a third murder.

Two of the other women murdered this summer, Jane Louise Mixer, 23, and Alice Kalom, 21, both U-M coeds, were both shot with .22 caliber pistols, and sources close to the investigation have indicated chances are better than even that Bishop may have been involved.

Krasny said the slaying of 16-year-old Maralynn Skelton, a high school dropout from near-by Romulus, Mich., is also being investigated for possible connection with Bishop.

Not Basom Killer

Bishop was in jail when the first two women, coeds at Eastern Michigan University in nearby Ypsilanti, were murdered in the summers of 1967 and 1968. Krasny also said Bishop has been ruled out of the slaying of Dawn Basom, 13, of Ypsilanti, slain this spring.

Delhey said the hearing would take a half day or a little longer. He said he plans to call ten to twelve witnesses.

Miss Phillips had been trying to help rehabilitate Bishop, who was in jail off-and-on for eight years. Miss Phillips first met Bishop at the home of a professor who was also trying to help Bishop.

The two men had met in jail, when the professor, now at the University of Colorado, was serving a short term for a draft board sit-in and Bishop was being transported back to Jackson State Prison for parole violation.

Board Approves School Budget

The Escanaba Area School Board Tuesday night approved an operating budget of $2,915,610 for the 1969-70 school year.

The approval followed a public hearing at which no one showed up.

The budget figure includes $27,300 that has already been approved for a community school program.

This year's budget is an increase of $333,929 over the 1968-69 budget.

The main increases are in teachers' salaries, with smaller budget hikes in audio-visual aids, driver and custodial salaries.

The board expects an anticipated income of $2,982,194. This income compared with the approved budget of $2,915,610, leaves the school system with a plus $66,584.

This $66,584 will be used to help eliminate last year's school deficit of $110,000. This means that the anticipated deficit for 1969-70 school year will be $43,416.

Barrett and Charles Tooman interviewed a prospective candidate for the job of Community School Director.

"I plan to interview one more man," Barrett said. "Then I will make a decision."

Barrett said that the interview with the other candidate is scheduled for this Monday.

Vocational Educ.

The board also discussed the possibility of Escanaba Area Schools being designated as an area center for vocational education. Barrett had sent a letter to the Vocational Division in Lansing on May 24 inquiring concerning Escanaba's designation and the possible expansion of the school system's vocational program.

Robert Pangman, spokesman for the Vocational Education Division in Lansing, replied in a letter saying: "Your first steps should be taken locally. Some long-range planning is necessary so that you know just where you want to go in vocational education."

Pangman said that his office would be glad to help in any way they could, but that the real catalyst in this matter would be to contact the Inter-

Hot Lunch Program Approved By Board

BY BOB GREGG

After much discussion, both pro and con, the Escanaba Area School Board Tuesday night approved a motion to keep its current school hot lunch program because of the fine acceptance it has been given by the students.

"The kids in the Jr. and Sr. High Schools prefer the type of program we are currently operating," said Ralph Kaziatek.

Area schools are currently running a sandwich-type program in which a youngster receives a sandwich, chips, pastry and milk for forty cents.

Kenneth West and Donald Wellman both agreed with Kaziatek that a continuance of the current program would be best for the coming school year.

Ronald Lankford said he felt the school system should run its own hot lunch program in order to see that students get a decent lunch.

Deficit Program

Albin Pearson, board chairman, said that he did not think the school system could run its own program without creating a large deficit. "And right now we can't possibly think of running a deficit program," Pearson said. "I think when we talk about a hot lunch program we are taking for granted the highest amount of revenue and the lowest amount of expenditures. This is not being realistic," Pearson added.

A low bid from the Stewart Sandwich Co. to run next year's hot lunch program was accepted by the board.

Teacher Hired

In other business, the board gave approval for the issuance of a contract to George Peterson who will teach 9th grade mathematics next fall at the high school.

Luther Barrett, school superintendent, told the board that he had three other teachers under consideration for new positions, but there were still twelve openings on the staff.

"There is also a strong possibility that we might lose another teacher before next fall," Barrett said.

He added that he thought there was a chance the school

A special designation is necessary in order that matching funds can be provided for by the state.

Vandalism

Superintendent Barrett expressed concern at last night's meeting over the widespread vandalism at the Wells School. "Something has to be done about this problem," Barrett said.

Barrett suggested that a good way to fight this problem would be to offer a reward to anyone giving information leading to the apprehension of the persons responsible.

"This was done in my district of previous employment and it seemed to help," Barrett said.

The board passed a resolution adopting a $25 reward for anyone giving information leading to the arrest of persons involved in vandalism at any area school facility.

Schedule

The board also approved a schedule of meetings for the coming school year. Here is the schedule, which commences with two buildings where meetings were not held last year:

August 12, 1969, Admin. Bldg.; September 9, 1969, Webster; October 14, 1969, Lemmer; November 11, 1969, Ford River; December 9, 1969, Cornell; January 13, 1970, Jefferson; February 10, 1970, Wells; March 10, 1970, Washington; April 14, 1970, Soo Hill; May 12, 1970, Franklin; June 9, 1970, Admin. incompetency or duplicity." O'Neil said. "I think he would serve the people of Michigan better if he would consider resigning from the State Board of Education."

O'Neil, a Republican and Polley, a Democrat, have long been feuding. O'Neil once before led an unsuccessful effort to oust Polley. Democrats have a 6-2 margin on the eight-member board.

Polley said afterwards he had no intention of resigning. He said the material was released by the staff and the committee.

O'Neil also said birth control should not be taught until the advent of puberty, that any sex education program should be under control of the parents and that parents should have the right of prior review and approval of any instructional materials.

Integrate Instruction

Board member Thomas Brennan noted the report said sex education should be integrated into the entire school curriculum. If this is done, he asked how a pupil could be excused without missing a number of classes.

But Brennan defended members of the committee and the staff.

"To assume that this is some effort to corrupt our children is not true," he declared.

The board, by a 5-3 vote, agreed also to receive the minority report from Mrs. Talt and a somewhat similar nine-point set of recommendations from O'Neil.

"Parents can not do this job alone, they need our help," said Mrs. Eleanor Skuffs of Adrian, a medical doctor and mother, head of the guideline writing subcommittee in reading one section of the report.

"Let us bring up our own children," responded a shout from the audience.

The report said that "No school is mandated to provide sex education at any level."

It stressed that local school districts would have complete control. Also emphasized was the right of any parent to have his child excused from sex education classes.

Dr. Leon Washkin, chief of staff and liaison officer for the planning committee, said teachers would not violate the law by giving instructions on birth control.

Several critics of the report said this already was being done in some public schools.

Program Drive To Start Here

The Senior Citizens committee of the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce will begin solicitation of advertising Thursday for a souvenir program for the Airport Dedication featuring the U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds.

The precision flying show is scheduled for 3 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 30, at Ludington Park.

The program will be part of the total program inaugurating the jet age to Escanaba, said Claude J. Tobin, committee chairman. The modern airport is another step in our progressive economic development, he said.

Co-chairmen for the Senior Citizens group are John Bartella and Karl J. Hammar. Proceeds from the program will go to meet expenses for the dedication.

Set Public Hearing On School Budget

A public hearing on the proposed 1969-70 budget of the Manistique Area Schools was set for Aug. 12 by the Area board of education at their meeting Monday night.

The proposed budget with estimated expenditures of $1,329,559 against anticipated revenues of $1,334,343 and a surplus of $4,784 — is based on State Equalized Valuation of $28,153,350. Enrollment is gauged at 1,892 students.

Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle explained that the proposed budget "represents the current obligations of the district for salaries. Negotiated increases (meaning certified and auxiliary personnel salaries) will have to come from a) the balance; b) curtailment of items in the budget; c) running a deficit; or d) any combination of the three."

Pending adoption of the budget, the Area board of education authorized the administration to expend monies in the amount suggested in the budget for such items as textbooks and teaching supplies, normal janitorial and salary expenses, purchase of typewriters and reconditioning of certain typewriters.

Hire New Teachers
Remodeling of the boy's lavatory in the amount of $3,620 was approved as well as first floor repairs in the amount of $1,600. Both projects are for the Central School.

Wuehle reported he had received contract acceptances from two new teachers and that only one vacancy — an elementary position — remains to be filled for the coming year.

Kathryn Knudsen of Bloomington, Minn., will be teaching German and mathematics in the high school while Gerald Wilson, 525 Manistique Ave., will be assigned to 8th grade at the Fairview School.

Miss Knudsen received her B.S. degree from the University of Minnesota and holds a secondary provisional certificate. Wilson is a graduate of Ohio State University and holds a B.S. degree, secondary provisional. He is a 22-year Navy veteran and also did naval work.

The 1969-70 school calendar was adopted allowing 181 days of school attendance. School will reopen Sept. 3 and close on May 28, one week earlier than this year.

Reject Bid
The board rejected a bid from William Males for the Putnam property, presently occupied by the Senior Citizens as a Drop In Center, and authorized the administration to contact area realtors with an eye to re-listing the Putnam property, Thompson School and the old Doyle School for sale.

Various appointments were made including Leon Wood, Library Advisory Committee; Margaret Waters, Elementary-Secondary Education Act Advisory Committee; Ralph Gillam, Community School Advisory Committee; William Mueller and Leon Wood, auxiliary service employees negotiating committee; Jeanne Larson, PTA Advisory Committee; Denton Nelson, Senior Citizens; and Mrs. Waters, assisting treasurer in checking monthly bills.

Mrs. Larson and Gillam were named delegates and alternate, respectively, to the Michigan Association of School Boards convention in Detroit Sept. 23-26.

In other business: Nelson reported, after a closed "executive session" that contract negotiations with both certified and auxiliary personnel were in process and that a joint statement from both units and administration would be issued at the conclusion of the negotiations.

Closed Session
The board went into a closed session to review negotiations

at the conclusion of their meeting.

The board will meet July 16 with its auditing firm, Ernst and Ernst of Marquette, to discuss a cost estimate for the yearly audit of school book-keeping.

Approval of a $400 expenditure for a non-food grant for equipment for the hot lunch program was given. A federal grant of $1,200 will defray the $1,600 cost for additions to the program.

A resolution on endorsing state wide support, including financial support, for the community school program was okayed and will be submitted to the Michigan Association of School Boards.

A hike to $1.50 from $1.25 in hourly student pay was approved; textbook purchases for elementary and secondary studies were approved; Phyllis Toyra's request for sick leave pay to defray educational course expense was approved; and resolutions of appreciation to retiring board members Earl H. LeBrasseur and Robert Orr were endorsed.

Large Die-Off Of Geese Noted Again At Seney

SENEY—Of the 1,300 giant Canada geese that migrated south from the Seney National Wildlife Refuge flock last fall approximately 900 to 1,000 returned this spring.

Nesting commenced in mid-April and the first brood was observed on May 13, reports John E. Wilbrecht, refuge manager.

This year estimated production of goslings to flight stage at Seney will be about 500 to 700 birds. Nest searches in early May revealed 243 nests containing 1,265 eggs compared to 211 nests with 1,158 eggs in 1968. Of the 1,265 eggs found this year, 1,091 hatched. The remaining eggs were either deserted, destroyed or were sterile and did not hatch.

Since the hatch various perils have trimmed the gosling population down to its present size. Predators such as coyotes, fox and snapping turtles remove some of the goslings soon after the hatch.

In addition an unexpected die-off from bird malaria (leucocytozoon) began to take its toll about mid-June, Wilbrecht said. By the end of June the refuge had picked up more than 20 dead goslings and examination of these coupled with daily brood counts indicated that 300 to 500 of the young had died.

In the past large die-offs of goslings due to Leucocytozoon have been noted every four years. Last year, for example, about 700 goslings died.

Because of the disastrous die-off last summer, refuge biologists did not expect to lose many birds to the disease this year. Therefore, production to flight this year will be considerably less than had been anticipated, Wilbrecht said.

In addition to the disease

No More A's On Report Card

The traditional A B C's of yesterday's report card are out in the Manistique Area Schools for youngsters in kindergarten through 6th grade.

A new type report card was approved which will grade the child on three levels of performance: satisfactory, unsatisfactory and improving.

Approval of the new re-designed cards came during Monday's night's meeting of the Area board of education.

Children will be graded on individual achievement and also in relation to group progress of his peers. Specific areas covered include academic achievement, work and social habits, originality and creativeness, etc. The new card is an attempt to deviate from the old-fashioned, rigid system of grading which denied a student consideration of his individual capacity for achievement.

The new cards include a separate reporting system for kindergarten; another for first grade; a third for second and third grades; and lastly, one for fourth, fifth and sixth grades. The cards feature in-depth analysis of each child's progress in certain areas of rudimentary kindergarten achievements to retention, comprehension and relating skills in the upper elementary grades.

The new reporting system was approved for a one-year period.

Re-Elect Nelson To MHS Board

Denton Nelson was re-elected president of the Manistique Area Board of education for a fourth term at the board's annual reorganizational meeting Monday night.

Also re-elected were Mrs. Jeanne Larson, vice president, and Mrs. Margaret Waters, secretary. The only new officer is William Mueller who will serve as treasurer for the next year. He replaces Robert Knoph.

Mueller and Leon Wood officially took their seats on the Area board at Monday night's reorganizational meeting. Both were elected to four year terms in the annual June school election. Trustee Ralph Gillam completes the seven-member board.

Following the reorganization meeting, the board went into a regular meeting session.

Public Waters Bill Rescued From 'Burial'

LANSING (AP) — Another link in the overhaul of Michigan's court system awaits Senate consideration—rescued from near "burial" in committee during preliminary debate.

The Senate also waded into committee reaches Tuesday to resurface a bill defining "public waters."

Both measures had been referred to committee for further study after early discussion, but reconsideration votes reversed the action and placed them in line for further debate.

The court bill, passed by the House earlier this year, would reorganize Michigan's probate court system, dividing 42 counties north of the Bay - Muskegon county lines into 20 districts. Voter approval would be required before the courts functioned.

Salary Set
The measure calls for probate judges to be paid at least $20,000 annually, and provides that their salaries may be supplemented, but must not exceed a total of $32,000 a year.

CLAUDIA D. MALMBERG, recipient of the Northern Michigan University Home Economics Award for 1969 given to the top student in the graduating class, has assumed her duties as Home Service Adviser for Edison Sault Electric Company. Miss Malmberg, a native of Wakefield, will head the Home Service Department and be responsible for programs covering the service area of the power company throughout the eastern Upper Peninsula. Prior to Miss Malmberg, the department has been under the direction of Mrs. John Adams. Miss Malmberg will work out of the central office, Sault Ste. Marie.

Briefly Told

The City of Manistique Recreation Dept. swimming program is postponed until further notice. The reason of the postponement is the closing of the beach at Indian Lake State Park.

Ticketed for speeding by Michigan State Police on Monday were Jesse Bowers, Sidnaw, Mich., and Joseph DeLavalley, Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario.

The state would share salary costs with counties.

Backers of the bill, including Rep. Donald Holbrook, R-Clare—sponsor of the bill and engineer of last year's district court reorganization act—said increased fees for probate court actions would more than pay the state's share of salary money.

"They forgot the state contribution to the retirement system," contended Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor.

"If this has the same implications as the lower court reorganization act (for which added appropriations were needed this year), we may find that we're going to be in a tremendous deficit," he warned.

Soaked By Kleenex
The second "rescued" measure would define public waters as: "those lakes and streams excluding the Great Lakes, which are boatable by small craft or which are capable of supporting public fishery and which are accessible to the public from an upland point, without trespassing on private lands, or by means of boating or wading."

As the House passed the bill earlier, Rep. Warren Goemaere, D-Roseville, sponsor of the measure, said, "We're saying anything you can't soak up with a kleenex is public waters."

"This takes the rights away from the property owners who have lakes and streams," said Lodge. "This would destroy the rights of private ownership."

Sen. Raymond Drendzel, D-Detroit, argued, with Lodge, that the measure could open the way for people to "destroy the property" of those who owned land next to "public waters."

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland

Park, objected to action sending the bill back to the Conservation Committee.

Recreation

"We're trying to provide the maximum recreation use of our waters," he said, adding that the bill could have some bearing on the well-known Martiny Lake decision by the State Supreme Court.

Prior to the decision, "anything that you could float a log through" was declared a public water, he said. The court decision, Brown explained, said in effect that a public water was one that would support commercial boating.

"This broadens the definition," he said of the proposed legislation.

The upper chamber finally agreed to reviving the measure and placing it at the foot of the calendar for further discussion, probably next week.

U.P. Women's Golf Tourney Opens July 21

MARQUETTE — The 43rd annual Upper Peninsula Women's Golf Tournament begins at the Marquette Golf and Country Club with qualifying rounds on Monday, July 21.

More than 80 golfers from throughout the Upper Peninsula, northern Wisconsin and the Canadian Soo are expected to compete in the four-day event.

Those in the championship flight will be vying for the title held by Karla Deming of Menominee. Mrs. Deming won the crown in Escanaba last year by upsetting Linda Uren of Iron Mountain, who had won the championship for the previous four consecutive years.

Other former Upper Peninsula title holders also will be entered in the 1969 edition of the tournament.

Co-chairmen for the tournament are Louise Belde and Eloise MacIntosh, whose committees have planned a variety of activities in addition to the golfing competition, including a picnic, cocktail party and tea.

In addition to individual competition in the several flights, a team championship will be determined. Each club may be represented by a team of four players.

Although competition does begin until the morning of July 21, golfers may register at the clubhouse from 2 to 6 p.m. on Sunday, July 20.

Monday's schedule calls for coffee and registrations at 8 a.m., followed by qualifying play. Luncheon will be served at the clubhouse. A picnic supper at the club is scheduled for 6 p.m. A meeting of the board of directors of the Upper Peninsula Women's Golf Association, with one representative from each member club, will begin at 8 p.m.

Tuesday's activities will start with coffee and rolls at 8 a.m. First round matches in all flights will begin at 8:30. A cocktail party will be held at the residence of Pat Micklow, beginning at 6 p.m.

Second round matches will be played on Wednesday. The annual tournament dinner will be held that evening at the clubhouse beginning at 7.

Thursday will mark the final day of play. The championship finals and championship consolation are scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m. A tea and presentation of prizes at 3 p.m. will climax the tournament.

Tournament entries must be submitted by July 16 and reservations for the annual dinner by July 18. The entries and reservations should be mailed to Mrs. Mark Payant, Secretary, Upper Peninsula Women's Golf Association, 520 Spruce St., Marquette, Mich. 49855.

In addition to Mrs. Belde and Mrs. MacIntosh, members of the tournament committee are Rebina Payant, secretary-treasurer; Gloria Drazkowski, chairman for publicity and programs, assisted by Ag Strand, Ginny Scott, Ellie Polzin and Marie Lowe; Shirley Madacey, chairman for hospitality, assisted by Elaine Andriacchi, Margaret Redman and Yvonne Dorias; Jackie Specker, registration and scoring; Peg Dahlke, chairman for prizes, assisted by Bobbie Bolitho and Phyl Reynolds; Ethel Connors, rules; Ruth Jensen and Sally Brebner, social chairman; Geri Priesler, picnic chairman; Bev Palke, dinner chairman; Pat Micklow, cocktail party; Claire Bennett, tea, and Sue Maure and Judy Mayer, decorations.

The rules committee is composed of Edna Repola, Ishpeming; Ethel Connors, Marquette; and Vicky Beck, Escanaba.

Harry Cebale, pro at the Marquette club, will be tournament referee.

Cubs Bombard Schaffer Nine

SCHAFER — The Escanaba Cubs got back on the victory trail last night by bombing Schaffer 13-2 in a Waubesa League clash.

The Esby bats boomed for 11 hits, including four home runs, in the contest. Doug Howard led the assault with two homers while Dan Mylander and Tom Kangas each connected for one. Pete Ross, Kangas and Howard all had two hits in the game for the Cubs.

The Cubs started the scoring in the third inning with four runs and followed with three more in both the fourth and eighth innings.

Kangas got credit for the victory on the mound for the Cubs although getting relief help from Jack Johnson in the sixth inning. Terry Scheenemen took the loss for Schaffer with Russ Piriol helping out in relief.

The Cubs will play host to the league leading Manistique Chiefs at the Al Ness Field Thursday at 5:30 p.m. The Cubs now have a 5-2 mark in league play.

Kerry Anderson got credit for the victory on the mound for the Varieties while Darlene Skradski was charged with the defeat. Jean Dahl and Kerry Anderson hit home runs for the winners.

Injured Mota Swings Hot Bat As Dodgers Take Two

By The Associated Press

The Los Angeles Dodgers ache all over but the Atlanta Braves are the ones feeling the pain.

Led by super-cripple Manny Mota, who banged out eight hits, one short of the major league record for most hits in a doubleheader, the Dodgers swept Atlanta 5-3 and 4-3 Tuesday night and took over first place in the National League West from the Braves by one-half game.

After rapping seven singles and a double in 10 at-bats, driving in three runs, scoring twice and stealing a base, Mota limped into the clubhouse, where his left elbow and left knee were packed in ice.

Forgets Injuries

Mota broke the elbow playing winter ball in the Dominican Republic and injured the knee sliding a few days ago. The elbow probably will require post-season surgery, but the injuries didn't stop the 5-foot-11, 168-pound outfielder from raising his average since coming to .412 and his over-all mark to .366.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets rallied to nip Chicago 4-3 and trimmed the Cubs' lead in the East to four games. Cincinnati whipped San Diego 8-2. San Francisco turned back Houston 7-4. St. Louis downed Philadelphia 6-3 and Pittsburgh walked Montreal 8-2.

Mota's big night began with an infield hit in the first inning of the opener, after Hank Aaron had put the Braves ahead 1-0 with his 23rd home run and 533rd of his career. Willie Davis singled Mota to third and they both scored when Orlando Cepeda threw wildly to second trying to trap Davis in a rundown.

Keeps Trying

In the third inning, Mota singled and was out trying for a double. In the fourth, he doubled a run home and was out trying for third. In the sixth he got a harmless single and he flew out in the eighth.

Mota singled in the first inning of the second game and stole second, but was stranded. He wasted a single in the third and grounded out in the sixth, one of 14 straight batters retired by Ron Reed.

But Maury Wills broke the spell in the eighth with a two-out triple and Mota singled him in, cutting Atlanta's lead to 2-1. Mota then scored the tying run on singles by Davis and Len Gabrielson.

Dodgers Rally

The Braves went ahead 3-2 in the ninth on Rico Cart's pinch double, but Tom Haller, who homered in the first game, started another rally with a lead-off double in the Dodgers' half. A single by Bill Sudakis knotted the score again and, after a single by Willie Crawford, the Braves elected to walk Wills intentionally and pitch to Mota. He promptly singled, scoring Sudakis with the winning run.

Davis, who was hit on the wrist by a pitch Sunday and had trouble squeezing the bat, collected three singles and a triple; Haller, who has two swollen ankles after being hit by foul balls, had a single, double and home run, and Wes Parker, still bothered by a persistent hamstring pull, singled in a first-game run.

Sixth Defeat

"Sometimes when you think you're really crippled and don't have a chance, that's when you get hot," said manager Walter Alston. "It's nice to be back in first place."

It was Atlanta's sixth defeat in eight games, all coming in

League Leading Orioles End Skid Against Yanks

By The Associated Press

If the Baltimore Orioles were in a slump, Manager Earl Weaver didn't know about it.

"I wouldn't call it a slump," Weaver said after the Orioles swept a doubleheader from the New York Yankees Tuesday night, 10-3 and 4-1, ending a skid of five losses in seven games.

"Two of the five losses were to Mickey Lolich, one to Denny McLain and one to Mel Stottlemyre," Weaver said, rationalizing as best he could.

"What I mean is," Weaver added, "you can't catch those guys all in a row, and beat them every time out."

Extend Lead

In Tuesday's two-nighter, the Orioles rapped out 21 hits off New York pitchers of lesser renown and extended their bulging lead in the American League's East Division to 11½ games over runnerup Boston.

In the opener, the Orioles scored a club record 10 runs in the fourth inning on nine hits—seven in succession with two outs after New York Manager Ralph Houk ordered an intentional walk to bring pitcher Tom Phoebus to the plate.

But Phoebus, now 8-2, rapped out his second hit on a 1-2 pitch, to drive in the third run of the inning, and Mark Belanger, Paul Blair and Frank Robinson followed with run-scoring singles to chase loser Fritz Peterson.

Powell Homers

Boog Powell, who also drove in two second-game runs to give him 79 RBI, then clubbed a three-run homer off reliever Mike Kekich, Brooks Robinson singled and rode home on Dave Johnson's double.

"I can't remember ever having eight runs scored against me with two outs," Houk said. "I didn't have anybody warming up with the pitcher coming up. There was no reason to."

While Orioles batters were too fast for Houk in the opener, the Yankee skipper was too slow for umpire Bob Stewart in the nightcap.

Rhubarb Starts

After the Orioles raked starter Bill Burbach for three runs in the first inning, one on a Blair triple, and threatened again in the second, Houk went out to visit Burbach.

Following a long delay, Stewart also went to the mound. An argument ensued, and Houk was ejected for delaying the game.

Groleau Fires 2-Hit Shutout

The Teamsters bumped off Michigan Hotel, 10-0, in an Escanaba Softball Association league game played last night at Memorial Field.

Bill Groleau fired the shutout victory for the Teamsters, allowing just two hits and striking out two Michigan Hotel batsmen.

The Teamster bats started booming in the top half of the second inning when Rick Taylor tripled with two men on base and Groleau followed with a run-producing single to center. They scored another run in the third on a single by Ed Gauthier, a walk and an error.

The Teamsters wrapped up the victory under the 10-run rule with a six run uprising in the top of the fifth inning. Jim Bruce got things going with a single and scored on a triple by Steve Shephard. Dave Ingebrigtsen singled, scoring Shephard, and the next man reached base on an error. Taylor again tripled to drive in two more runs and Groleau followed with a single to center, producing another Teamster run. The final run was driven in on a double by Joe Hebert.

Bunny Martin and Dick Lewis is managed to get the only hits off Groleau for the Michigan Hotel nine.

Tonight the Teamsters will try to avenge a previous loss to Stroth's in the 8 p.m. contest while the Escanaba Merchants will try to keep their unbeaten string alive against the Michigan Hotel at 6:30.

Bosox Upend Tigers; Fernant Hopes Fade

BOSTON (AP) — Any hopes for the Detroit Tigers to repeat as champions of the American League and the world ride strictly on the arms of Mickey Lolich and Denny McLain.

And today those hopes looked slim indeed after the Boston Red Sox bombed Lolich for five hits and took advantage of five walks for a 4-1 win, snapping the Mick's nine-game winning streak and inflicting his second loss in 20 decisions over two seasons.

Detroit, whose slim pennant hopes had been briefly resurrected by a five-of-six flurry against Boston and league-leading Baltimore, fell 12 games back once again as the Bosox took over second place in the East Division.

The obvious culprit in Lolich's second loss of the season against 11 wins — both losses have come in Fenway Park — was rookie pitcher Mike Nagy, who threw a three-hitter at the Tigers and drove in all the runs he needed with a bases-loaded single in the second inning.

The real villain, though, was a rare lapse in the Mick's control. Lolich had walked three batters to load up the bases before Nagy came to bat.

"He had walked a few, and I didn't want to let him get off the hook," the rookie right-hander said. "They never let me off the hook when I walk a few."

Nagy didn't have any problems to speak of Tuesday night, striking out five, walking three and hiking his record to 5-1.

His own hit and Russ Gibson's two-run single in the third gave him a quick 4-0 lead, and he was in command all the way.

The 21-year-old New Yorker gave up only a double by Tom Tresh in the first inning and a single by Dick McAuliffe in the eighth before a hit batter, Jim Northrup's double and a ground out broke up his shutout in the ninth.

Manager Dick Williams said it was the best Nagy has looked all year "by far."

Lolich noted that there isn't any warmup mound at Fenway Park and said, "I couldn't adjust to the change in height after I got out there."

Of the problems of a left-hander working in Fenway, he said, "I don't think it's a question of pitching too carefully in this park. Most of the home runs hit out of here would be out of any park."

A key play in the contest came in second inning, when

Highland Race Remains Tight

After all scores were in last night in the Highland Golf Club's Men's Twilight League, Smitty's Snackers managed to retain a slim one-point lead over the W. R.'s in the league standings.

Hengesh also said that the course should be in fine shape for the Highland Open, which will be played this weekend. Anyone wishing to enter the event is asked to have his entry in by Thursday at 6 p.m.

Team standings: Smitty's Snackers 59½, W. Player Seeks Defense Of British Open Title

LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England (AP) — Peter Thomson, the only living man to win the British Open five times, conceded today that the American challenge for the 1969 title is so deep and so tough that any one of a dozen could win it.

But the 39-year-old Australian refused to admit that he was Thomson was asked why Casper and Player?

"They have the game and it has been tested on the money-spinning American circuit."

This was a part of the golf world Thomson never mastered and he admits it.

When he was at his peak, the U.S. tour was not all that rich and his only crack at it left him somewhat cool.

But, the Australian said, that same tour over the years has produced so many proficient golfers that the 13-strong American challenge this Championship starting today, hardly can be ignored.

Certainly the bookies haven't. They've made Player a 5 to 1 favorite to retain the crown he won at Carnoustie last year. Casper and Jack Nicklaus were at 6 to 1 and from there on the there were nothing but American names until the long-odds types from Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and Europe were registered up to 100 to 1.

VanEffen Paces League Golfers

Harold VanEffen paced all golfers in the Escanaba Country Club's Men's Twilight League action last night with a two-under par round of 34.

Other low scorers were Wendell Green with a 37, Tom Gregoire 38, Bill Els Sr. 39, Al Taylor 40, Bill Els Jr., Ken Turner, Bill Smith, Don Gou-lais and Dave Erickson 41s.

In best ball play, Arne Anderson and Ken Myllyla tied for first place with Harold Olson and Dr. Bill Hemes with a net 29 score while Jim Allen and Bill Smith, Bill VanEffen and Dr. Roger Beauchamp, Dr. Kirke Harrington and Ted Grait, and Al Taylor and Jerry Londo tied for second at net 30. Wendell Green was closest to the pin on No. 7.

The annual Country Club Caicutta will be played on July 19 with the auction to be held Friday, July 18. The first 80 players to register will play in the event. Play will begin with a shotgun start at 12 noon Saturday and a steak fry will follow the event.

Mud Hens Drop To Fourth Spot

By The Associated Press

Buddy Booker rapped a homer and two singles to lead a 17-hit Richmond assault on two Toledo pitchers as the Braves won their third in a row, 11-1, and shoved the Mud Hens into fourth place, three games out of the International League lead.

The win equaled Richmond's longest win string of the season. Larry Maxie shut out the Mud Hens on five hits over the last eight innings after giving up a run in the first on three straight hits.

In other action Louisville whipped Buffalo 4-2 and Rochester was rained out at Tidewater while Syracuse split with Columbus, winning the first game 6-1 and losing the second 2-1.

U.P. Legislators May Get Special Travel Allowance

LANSING (AP) — Challenged to decide "what you're worth and stand up for it" the Michigan House has joined the Senate in seeking a review of the legislative mileage allowance.

By a 70-35 vote Tuesday that disregarded bipartisan advice from ranking legislators, the House approved, but modified, a bill calling for a review of the 10-cents-a-mile gasoline allowance authorized by the State Officers Compensation Commission.

Strongly endorsed by Upper Peninsula legislators, the House revision allows the commission to hear requests by individual legislators for special travel consideration. Passed by the Senate, the bill directed the commission to review the controversial allowance by Aug. 1 and reach a decision by Sept. 1.

Thumb Way Down
Outstate legislators have complained the $3,000 annual travel and expense allowance, paid in addition to the $15,000 salary, is insufficient to cover a virtually year-round legislative session. "I may thumb my way down here next week," said Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee.

Bridge Crossings Show Trucks Are In

DETROIT (AP) — Tourists streaming across the Mackinac Bridge connecting Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas have confirmed something Detroit automakers have known all along—trucks are in this year. Especially little trucks.

Glenn Gustafson, a supervisor at the bridge, said he's been noticing a steady increase each year in the number of light trucks mounted with camper rigs. He conducted a spot check during the Independence Day weekend and found that 16 per cent of the family vehicles crossing the bridge were camper rigs with many of them carried by light trucks.

"It's increased. It's increased every year since I've been here," said Gustafson who went to work on the toll bridge when it opened in 1957.

"The last couple of years it's really taken off," he said.

Avoid Motels

Gustafson—who was counting only light trucks—was remarkably close to the percentage of pickup trucks one could expect to see in a typical highway situation. Last year the Big Three automakers sold 8.4 million cars and 1.6 million trucks, most of them pickups.

And many of the pickups are being bought by butchers, bakers, bankers, bartenders and others from a wide cross-section of society who like to get away from home on a weekend without losing sleep over costly motel bills.

At the end of June, truck sales for the Big Three were up 12.1 per cent from 1968 which Ward's 1969 Automotive Yearbook, an authoritative industry sourcebook, described as "The Year of the Truck."

Sales of light trucks dominated the overall truck sales picture and registered even more impressive gains. Chevrolet, for example, sold 307,718 pickups in the first half of this year, an 18 per cent increase from last year. Chevrolet's sales in medium and heavy categories was down 91 trucks from 1968.

Camper Business

The widespread interest in camping is given much credit for the popularity of the pickups and has in turn spawned a thriving parallel industry—sales of camper units and accessories. Although that industry is booming, all those in it are not.

"I've heard that seven camper outfits go out of business every day in Indiana," said Ray Elliott owner of Custom Camper Manufacturing Co. in Royal Oak, Mich. "They're working out of their garage and don't spend much time or money on it. It's not as bad as it sounds."

Elliott, who frequently heads for the wilderness in his camper truck, said he and another man keep busy the year around building custom units for light trucks. He said the camping boom is not a fad. He predicts continuing interest, with some leveling off next year.

"Those $18 motel rooms will keep me in business," he said.

Question Police Failure Rate

LANSING (AP)—A state representative has asked for an explanation of why the last State Police trooper graduation class consisted of "only 16 survivors out of 87 candidates."

Rep. Joseph Smeeckens, R-Sherwood, wrote state personnel director Franklin DeWald saying: "If I didn't know better, I would be prompted to think you just picked these candidates off the street."

"It certainly is a sign of weakness or incompetence of some kind," he said of the record.

Smeeckens asked for an explanation of the high rate of failure.

DeWald termed it a "higher than normal" rate of attrition and said he would check into the matter.

DeWald noted this was the last group of applicants accepted under special examining procedure which eliminated the written test prior to entrance.

"I won't say that was a factor," he added. "At this time we don't know."

Announce New Air Freight Service

DETROIT (AP) — Seaboard World Airlines announced the start Tuesday of direct through air freight service, five times weekly, between Detroit and 10 major European cities.

The cargo service was also extended to Chicago and Cleveland.

A Seaboard spokesman stated the carrier has more freight across the Atlantic than any other airline.

Besides some 150 life peers and peeresses, whose titles die with them, the House of Lords consists of nearly 900 hereditary dukes, marquesses, earls, viscounts and barons, two archbishops and 24 senior bishops of the Church of England.

Mental Health, DNR Bills Pass

LANSING (AP) — Inching closer to the massive $1.534 billion budget for the current fiscal year, the Legislature has stamped its approval on two more compromise appropriations bills.

Passed Tuesday by both House and Senate were spending bills doling out $167.6 million to the State Mental Health Department and $23.6 million to the departments of Natural Resources and Agriculture.

The bills represent efforts of House-Senate conference committees working to hammer out chamber differences in already-passed versions of the money measures.

Three appropriations bills — totaling some $82.8 million—won approval in the two chambers last week.

Still in conference, where budget bargainers have found it difficult to spend time because of pending legislative deadlines and day-and-night sessions, were:

Welfare Bill

—The $289.3 million welfare bill, which Senate appropriations chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, says is nearly ready for a vote. Zollar says House conferees are insisting on inclusion of some $750,000 for the State Housing Authority, a sum the upper chamber struck before approving its version of the bill. "The only problem is what to take it out of," Zollar says.

—A $295.5 million appropriation for Michigan's state-supported colleges and universities. At odds here are a $1.6 million house sought appropriation for Wayne Community College, yet-to-be constructed institution, and more than $4 million more for the University of Michigan than had been passed by the Senate.

Capitol

—A capital outlay bill from which the lower chamber deleted $4 million earmarked for new capitol construction. Zollar and Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, also a member of the appropriations committee, both are staunch backers of an immediate start to the building.

The $4 million will be put back in the bill, Zollar contends.

He adds that provisions also will be included for opening up the question of what the new building will look like. House opponents had objected to the fact that designs had been submitted by only one firm, Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates, Inc., the state architect.

Zollar said he hoped the bulk of appropriations bills would be reported from conference committees and acted upon this week.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Al Hirt At State Fair

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan State Fair, running Aug. 22-Sept. 1 this year, will be highlighted by trumpeter Al Hirt, the Baja Marimba Band and singer John Davidson.

It will open on the Fairgrounds at Eight Mile and Woodward in Detroit, where the event has been located since 1905. Now one of the largest fairs in the nation, it annually attracts about a million persons.

The State Fair was a "road show" for a while after its opening in 1849, playing such cities as Ann Arbor, Kalamazoo, Adrian, Jackson, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Lansing and Pontiac.
